FRANCE.

A REVIEW.

LONDON, June 14.—A review of one hundred thousand soldiers will be held in the Champs DeMars on Sunday next.

LEAVING.

The troops are leaving Lavelette.

ROCHEFORT ILL.

Rochefort is seriously ill, and his trial has been postponed.

THE BUDGET.

The Committee of the Assembly upon the Budget is known to be in favor of the raising funds by means of loans.

EXECUTED.

A special dispatch to the Standard says that twenty-one men were executed yesterday in the Bois DeBoulogne.

ROCHEFORT'S DEFENCE.

VERSAILLES, June 14.—Rochefort's defence before the military commission by which he is to be tried is that the tribunal is incompetent to pass upon his case. He therefore demands trial by jury.

ODIOUS CALUMNY.

VERSAILLES, June 14.—The Official Journal to-day says the story that the condemned insurgents have been shot in the Bois de Boulogne, with mitrailleuses, is an odious and absurd calumny.

DENIES.

The Official Journal denies the report that the Orleans Princes dined with Thiers, and says Prince de Joinville and Duke d'Aumale visited Thiers unexpectedly. During the interview the President said that although he was once a minister in the Government of their father, King Louis Phillips, he was today at the head of the Republic. There was nothing significant in the visit. The Princes understand the past and accept the present.

SUNDAY LAW.

The administration respect the rule forbidding work on Sunday.

TO VISIT PARIS.

All the journals approve of the coming visit of the Assembly to Paris and regard it as the first approach to a genuine recognition with the Parisians.

FAVORING A REPUBLIC.

The Gauche publishes a manifesto of the Paris electors against monarchy and in favor of a republic, in order to combat the Bonapartist intrigues.

IMPEACHING NAPOLEON.

The deputies propose to impeach the Emperor for declaring and waging war.

TROCHU'S SPEECH.

PARIS, June 14.—In the Assembly to-day General Trochu continued his speech in defence of his administration of military affairs. He gave a minute account of the sorties during the Germans' siege of Paris and of the reasons for making them. He attributed their defeat to the fact that the Germans fired their artillery only. The French, he believes, would have beaten the German infantry if they could have engaged them. His main plan had been for a grand sortie toward Rowen, but after the victory of Coulmiers, public opinion demanded a junction of the garrison of Paris with the Army of the Loire, which was sheer madness. One of the greatest obstacles to the conduct of the defence was the disorderly element in Paris, which was instigated to rebel by Bismarck, and to this end was furnished with arms by the enemy outside the city. He stigmatized the commencement of the bombardment by the Germans without formal notice as an unparalled violation of the rules of civilized warfare.

REPUBLICAN MANIFESTO.

PARIS, June 13.—The Republican manifesto which appeared to-day is signed by eighty-one Deputies of the Left in Assembly. It accuses the Monarchist Deputies of not keeping the agreement made at Bordeaux, whereby it was stipulated that partisan politics should be avoided, and charges that the Legitimist members from the provinces are intriguing for the restoration of monarchy and for intervention in Italy in favor of the Pope.

DISCHARGED.

Many of the Communist prisoners were discharged to-day for want of evidence against them. Arrests are frequent in the fourteenth and fifteenth Arrondissements.

NOT A CANDIDATE.

The report that Forcade Laroquette is a candidate for Assembly is denied.

PAPAL MOVEMENT.

The Times remarks that the French Bishops are actually moving for the reinstalment of the Pope in temporal possessions.

ENGLAND.

MARQUIS OF RIPON.

LONDON, June 14.—Earl De Gray is to be created Marquis of Ripon in consequence of his distinguished services in connection with the treaty at Washington.

THE "TIMES" SURPRISED.

LONDON, June 14.—The Times in an editorial to-day says it considers it unprecedented that such grave difference between nations as those of the Alabama Claims should have been settled without resort to arms. The demand for consequential damage for injury done to American commerce by the Alabama and kindred vessels was unacceptable to the English Commissioners, and was abandoned by the United States. The Times in conclusion expresses a hope that by taking pattern from the adjustment of the American question, the nations of Europe will rise to a higher conception of the aims of and duties of international fellowship.

CONSOLIDATION.

The English government gives its consent to a union of British Columbia with Canada, and directs that it shall take place July 20.

GERMANY.

DESTROYED.

BRESLAU, June 14.—The Stadt Theatre was entirely destroyed by fire last evening. The audience and performers escaped.

SETTLED.

BERLIN, June 14.—The Alabama question has been decided, and it is said that the American Envoys on the Continent have received instructions to agree with the powers for the protection of private property at sea. The consent of England and France is believed to be doubtful.

THE EMPRESS.

The Empress Augusta is expected in Berlin to-day.

THE DONATION BILL.

BERLIN, June 14.—The committee in charge of the Donation bill met to-day and was addressed by Bismarck on the subject of its labors. The bill was then adopted with an amendment under which the Emperor will distribute four millions thalers among the Generals and statesmen who have achieved the results of the war.

NEW YORK.

The Polaris—Murder Will Out—The President—Horse Disease—A Bad Son—A Startling Statement.

NEW YORK, June 14, 1871.

HORSE DISEASE.

The singular and unaccountable horse disease which made its appearance here recently has not yet abated. It baffles the skill of veterinary surgeons. The disease is very rapid in its results, generally producing death within twenty-four hours. Yesterday the Third Avenue Railroad Line lost thirty animals, the Second Avenue Railroad Line, twenty, and other lines proportionately large numbers. The Superintendent of the Broadway and Seventh Avenue Lines estimates the deaths, so far, at not less than two hundred animals.

MURDER WILL OUT.

In October 1864 the citizens of New York and Brooklyn and it may be said of the whole country were startled and horrified at the discovery of five bundles at intervals and apart in these waters, containing the mutilated body of some unfortunate man. It was supposed at the time that the body was that of a soldier named Joseph Smith of Danbury, Connecticut, who had deserted from his regiment. He visited New York City and soon after disappeared and was never heard of more. He was seen frequently before he disappeared in company with dissolute men, and was himself given to drink. After seven years comes news from Sydney, Australia, which removes the veil and gives the secret out at last. Some time ago, a free fight occurred in these parts between several men, in the course of which one of the parties was fatally wounded. The guilty ones were arrested and while in jail, one of them implicated himself and fellows in the murder of Joseph Smith. He stated they had been drinking and gambling and being out of money determined to rob Smith of three hundred dollars, which he had obtained by jumping the bounty. They took him into a coach factory on Prince street, where they first killed him and then cut him up. They took a coach and committed his remains to the river. The man who killed Smith is dead, but his companions will probably suffer the full extent of the law in Australia.

THE POLARIS.

The Polaris arrived from Washington this morning, after a fine passage of four days. She hauled into the navy yard at Brooklyn, where she will remain until the start northward. Those of the crew who accompanied former expeditions speak enthusiastically of the preparations made by Captain Hall and hopefully of his discovery of the northwest passage. The Polaris will take in supplies to last to a point in Greenland, where she will await the coming of the storeship Supply with additional provisions. The reception to Captain Hall and his officers, to be tendered by the American Geographical Society, will come off next week.

A STARTLING STATEMENT.

The Sun this morning says: We learn from unquestionable authority that a proposition of the following nature has been made by the British Government to the representatives in London of the Cuban Republic: England is willing to guarantee to Spain the sum of one hundred million dollars for the cession of Cuba to the Cubans. Cuba is to bind herself not to become annexed to the United States for one hundred years from the date of her independence. Control of the Cuban Custom Houses is to be given by Cuba to England as security for the loan until the latter be paid; and lastly, Cuba is to be willing, if the powers possessing the other West India Islands consent thereto, to form one of a Confederacy consisting of all the Islands.

A BAD SON.

John McGinns, aged twenty-five, tried to kill his mother and father yesterday, near Rochelle, but not succeeding contented himself with burning their dwelling.

THE PRESIDENT.

The President left for Long Branch last evening.

CONCORD, N. H.,

Seats to be Contested.

CONCORD, June 14.—During the session of the House yesterday, Bingham, Democrat, presented the names of twenty-five Republican members whose seats would be contested, and Mr. Wadleigh, Republican, presented the names of twelve Democrats.

A GALA DAY.

This is a gala day in New Hampshire. The Democracy began at sunrise by firing a salute of thirty-four guns. The special train of twenty-five cars over the Concord road arrived at eleven A. M. in charge of General Donahue, bringing the Governor elect, the Amoskeag veteran, Gen. Head Commander of the Headguards and the volunteer military organizations of Manchester, known as the Sheridan Guards and a large number of others. The arrival was greeted by a salute of guns.

Governor Weston was received at the depot by Governor Stearns, and other distinguished persons. The Legislature having met, took a recess and proceeded in a body to the depot, where a procession was formed and escorted the Governor elect to the capitol.

Governor Stearns delivered a valedictory address, after which Governor Weston was inaugurated and read his message. Governor Stearns, in his valedictory, gives a favorable account of the material interests of the State, and expresses the hope, under the blessing of Divine Providence, that the industry, intelligence and virtue of the people will continue to increase, and through the influences of religious and educational institutes, we may perpetuate a love of freedom.

Governor Weston's inaugural message states the receipts of the Treasury for the year as $1,182,325; expenditures, $1,088,386, of which sum $449,204 was applied for the payment of the State debt. The Governor suggests more moderate taxation for such payments, and an appropriation for the purpose, of a sum equal to the interest on the debt and one hundred thousand dollars of the principal. The Governor condemns special legislation, counsels prudence in the administration of State and National Finance and in National politics, and speaks as follows: It is an occasion for congratulation that the Union is restored, and that all citizens are entitled to protection in the rights guaranteed by the Constitution, and it behooves all to endeavor to cultivate these relations of unity in which the Union had its origin, and which must be fully restored if we would realize the obvious advantages the Union was designated to secure. However, diverse the interests of the different sections of the country may appear they are really identical and the utmost hope of the union will never be realized until we feel ourselves to be one people and until we are equally careful of the good name and equally jealous of the rights of all. Let us cherish with care steady devotion to the union and all those sentiments of fidelity, charity and brotherhood which alone can make the union blessed.

After the delivery of the message of Governor Weston, the Legislature, not being in working condition, adjourned till 10 A. M. to-morrow.

THE EXPOSITION.

The Cincinnati Industrial Exposition Managers to-day determined to erect additional buildings furnishing in these structures alone fifty-two thousand square feet of space. The premium list adopted to-day embraces forty-three classes and extends to almost all varieties of manufactures as well as raw cotton.

THE McGEHAN MURDER.

In the McGehan murder case at Lebanon, Ohio, the great feature of to-day was the arrival of McGlinn, James McGehan and Shelly, jointly indicted with Tom McGehan and Garver for the murder, who came to give testimony in the case. McGehan was examined this morning. He denied any knowledge of a conspiracy or combination, and swore he did not see McGehan in the room. Heard no conversation by or with McGehan concerning Meyers; declined to answer a number of questions on the ground that they might tend to criminate himself.

CLEVELAND.

Dead Beat Arrested.

CLEVELAND, June 14.—A notorious swindler and "dead beat" named Geo. C. Bennett, of Wadsworth, Ohio, was arrested and brought here to-day by Geo. W. Steele, United States Deputy Marshal at Mount Vernon, Ohio, at the instance of C. F. Baldwin, special agent of the Postoffice Department, charged with violating the postal laws. It appears that Bennett is a member of a bogus firm called Bennett & Co., who are the publishers of a villainous semi-occasional paper styled the Jolly Young American, in which he advertised for sale all manner of obscene and filthy trash, consisting of books, pictures, &c. It is on account of mailing these vulgar prints that the agent of the Postoffice Department caused his arrest. In default of bail he was committed to jail.

APPOINTMENTS.

WASHINGTON, June 14, 1871.

THE ARTIC EXPEDITION.

Captain Hall's instructions for his Polar voyage contemplates an absence of two years and a half, and if the results will warrant even longer. Among other means of securing intelligence of his movements, he is instructed to throw overboard, at suitable intervals and occasions, bottles containing dispatches to the Government, with instructions in different languages to those finding them to forward their contents without delay. When the vessel is left, skeleton stone monuments are to be erected on the course traveled, to mark the progress of the party.

THE WEATHER.

The barometer has risen slightly on the Pacific coast, with increasing cloudiness. It has risen to the extreme northwest, on the lakes, and in the Middle and Eastern States, and in less extent in the Southern States. Telegraphic communication with Galveston is now resumed. It appears probable that the storm experienced there on Monday has passed northward and diminished in its severity. Cloudy and threatening weather prevails in Kansas and Nebraska, and light rain is this afternoon reported in eastern Tennessee. Light winds have generally prevailed during the day.

Probabilities.—It is probable that on Thursday the barometer will have very generally fallen somewhat, with increasing cloudiness and temperature.

THE NEW YORK CENTRAL CASE.

Solicitor Banfield, of the Treasury Department, will probably present his decision on the question of the New York Central's appeal to-morrow. The only question for the Solicitor to decide is whether the Secretary has any legal right to reverse the decision rendered by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. If it is determined that an appeal can be taken, it is then for the Secretary to decide whether he will hear it or not; and under probable circumstances it is still not doubtful that the railroad, like less powerful parties, will have to pay its assessment, under protest if it chooses, and go to the Court with its grievances.

A PENNSYLVANIAN APPOINTED.

The Postmaster General to-day appointed the Rev. Geo. D. Chinawith, Superintendent and Disbursing clerk of the postoffice department, vice. Frank A. McCartney. Chinawith is from Carlisle, Pa., and has been for the past year stationery clerk of the postoffice department.

Rev. Sam A. Milson, of this city has been appointed special agent of the postoffice.

UNAUTHORIZED.

Mr. Sumner says that the use of his name in connection with the representation of the United States in the Court of Arbitration, which is to assemble at Genoa to decide upon the Alabama claims, is entirely unauthorized, and that his proposed connection with adjudications of this class is pure invention.

EXTENDING A PATENT.

The Commissioner of Patents will hear the argument to-morrow on the question of extending Kelley's patent for manufacturing steel.

BRAZIL.

Immediate Emancipation of the Slaves Projected.

LISBON, June 3.—Rio Janeiro dates of May 13th state that Duque DeCaxias, on the part of the Brazilian Government, presented to the Imperial Chamber an elaborate and carefully prepared bill for the emancipation of all the slaves belonging to the Crown. This act, if it becomes a law, manumits thousands now toiling in the diamond mines in the Province of Minos, and also those engaged in the construction of the dock and other public works at Rue de Janerir, Bahai, Penembica and Moranbam, besides a large force employed on the Government railroads. A provision of the bill also releases the convict slaves on the Island of Ferdinand, De Nareha, after seven years of servitude, their owners to be indemnified from the Imperial Treasury. The bill meets with determined opposition, it is said, by the Conservatives in the Brazilian Senate, but the Liberal party is strong and will likely carry this humane measure. In the Lower House, where there is an overwhelming Liberal majority, the emancipation bill, which has always been the pet measure of Brazil's Democratic Emperor, will encounter but feeble opposition. The great objections to the measure are said to be not so much the injustice of the act but its hasty enforcement. The law as it now stands provides for a system of gradual emancipation for the slaves belonging to private estates only, while the Emperor's bill decrees the immediate manumission of all slaves owned by the Crown Imperial.

CHICAGO.

Pardoned.

CHICAGO, June 14.—Governor Fairchilds, of Wisconsin, to-day pardoned on the ground of innocense, Floyd Smith, brought from Minnesota, on a requisition on a charge of horse stealing, convicted in Waukesha county, last March, and sentenced to five years in the State Prison. It is proved by a large number of witnesses whose responsibility is vouched for by Governor Austin of Minnesota, that Smith had owned the horse found in his possession and claimed to have been stolen for five years previous to the alleged theft. The case was one of mistaken identity.

RAILROAD.

The announcement is made that the Milwaukee & St. Paul Rail Road Company, is to commence immediately the construction of a new road between Milwaukee and Chicago. The road will be built as nearly as possible on an Air Line.

CLOSING THE CANAL.

Superintendent Gooding gives public notice that the Illinois and Michigan Canal will be closed for ten days, on and after the 25th inst., for the purpose of removing the locks.

WEST POINT.

The Congressional Committee.

WEST POINT, June 14.—The Congress Committee have worked diligently up to noon, when an adjournment was reached. The Committee will report on the evidence as to the laxity of discipline or any shortcomings developed in the inquisition. The examination of undergraduates still continues, and excellent work is shown on all sides. Certainly, if discipline has relaxed, training has in no way degenerated, for no year of the Academy can show a more uniform average of well-ground scholars. By Thursday next the class will get away; then new promotions will commence, and all of the remaining cadets will go into camp, which is the most interesting feature of the year.

CANADA.

Marine Disaster.

OSWEGO, June 14.—The schooner Pioneer, from this port for Oshawa, Canada West, sunk off Presque Isle. A number of the crew were saved.

WAYNESBURG.

THE MURDER TRIAL.

[Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WAYNESBURG, Pa., June 14, 1871.

The evidence for the Commonwealth in the Preston murder case will close in the morning. It is, as it stands, a strong case.

The Court permitted the Commonwealth to prove the procuring of the abortion for which Preston was being arrested, when the killing occurred. This made the case terribly bad for the prisoner.

The general opinion to-night is that the verdict will be guilty in the first degree, but the defense remains to be heard.

ST. LOUIS.

Murder and Suicide.

ST. LOUIS, June 14.—An altercation occurred at Jefferson City Sunday evening between Mrs. Berry and her brother Hoflus, which ended in Hoflus shooting his sister and then blowing his own brains out. Mrs. Berry died on Monday night. The case is involved in some mystery, and accounts of it are a good deal confused. Mrs. Berry carried on a drug store and owned considerable property, and her brother resided with her.

NASHVILLE.

Trains Seized.

NASHVILLE, June 14.—Much excitement is reported in Chattanooga by passengers from that place, occasioned by the seizure of trains on the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad and stopping them by a mob of unpaid employes. The stopping of trains prevents the transportation of supplies to other employes on the line of the road, who are in a state of starvation. The business houses in Chattanooga are closed, fearing the mob. Stanton, the builder of the road, avers that he is not to blame for this state of affairs, that if let alone he can pay. The Chinese employes demand to be sent back to California, willing to abandon their claims.

There will be a meeting of the club held next Friday evening at eight o'clock, at the Miller street School House, Eleventh ward, when the books will be open for the signatures of all who desire to become members. Any information concerning the organization may be obtained of Mr. L. Googins, on Smithfield near Diamond street.

IMPORTANT WILL CASE.

The McCabe Will—$100,000 Involved—Which Paper Shall Decide the Question!

Register Gray had before him yesterday one of the most important contested will cases that ever occurred in our county, the decision of which possibly provides for the distribution of effects valued, at the least calculation, at one hundred thousand dollars. Mr. James McCabe, a wealthy and worthy citizen of the Second ward, who had amassed a large fortune through thrift, industry and economy, recently died after a very long sickness. He left two wills. There was very little difference between them. All of his charitable donations are almost the same in words and amount. The difference arises here: a prosecution was entertained by the Board of Managers of the Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum, against their attorney John C. Barr, Esq., for alleged embezzlement of funds—fifty per cent. of a grant of $8,000 received from the state for the institute. Mr. Barr claims that Mr. McCabe, who had been one of the most determined of his prosecutors, a short time before his death felt repentant over the course pursued, and called him, (Mr. Barr) in to make an amended will before he died. In this latest instrument executed by McCabe he left the sum of five thousand dollars to the asylum, providing all legal action against John C. Barr should be brought to an end by amicable compromise. The attorneys of Miss Anna McCabe, daughter of the deceased, put in an appearace to break this last will. The Catholic Church is an entirely indifferent party to the transaction. Both wills contain equally liberal grants, and the church cares very little about receiving a cent from the bequest made if any litigation is entailed therefrom. This should be very generally understood, inasmuch as the impression has gone out that the church wishes to get hold of the entire estate. Rt. Rev. Bishop Domenec and Rev. Father Hickey have been unfortunately mixed in the matter, because of a trifling legacy left each of them in their official or clerical capacities by the deceased. They ask nothing from the estate either for themselves or the church, but are anxious that plain and simple justice be done all around, and that the real will and intentions of the deceased be carried out.

The attendance of parties interested at Register Gray's office yesterday was large, and much interest was manifested in the proceedings. Hon. T. M. Marshall appeared for the respondents and Hon. Robert Wood for the contestants, both assisted by able counsellors. After the formality of opening the Court was gone through with the first witness, John C. Barr, Esq., was called. Being sworn, he testified as follows:

(Contested Will shown.) Michael McSwiggen came after me when I was in the office of lawyer Mellon, about two o'clock, the 11th day of last July, and said Mr. McCabe wanted me to make some alterations in his first will. I went with him to McCabe's house. He was in bed. He said, "Well, you have come to do that writing for me." We went into another room and drew up the second will. I saw him sign the paper; drew a lead pencil line for him to enable him to write straight. He signed over it. Mr. McSwiggen and I signed it before each other at Mr. McCabe's request, with the same pen. When he came to name the executors, he named Mr. McSwiggen, then hesitated and asked Mr. McSwiggen as to who would be a good man with him. I suggested he should appoint John Mellon, Esq. He hesitated again and said "Mr. Mellon is a very good man." He hesitated again, then he walked the floor once or twice and coming back said, "How would John C. Barr do?" I told him again I would rather he would appoint Mr. Mellon. He said, "No, put your own name there." I then wrote my own name there. McCabe seemed perfectly sensible all the time. He seemed to know the business he was about and what he was doing. He told McSwiggen to bring the keys and tin box and then told him to put the will away in the box. The will was put in the box and locked and McSwiggen put the box on the top of the cupboard. He then gave me five or ten dollars for my services in writing the will, as he said he did not want me to come around and work for nothing.

Cross-examined—Knew Mr. McCabe had a daughter. Believe she was living at home on good terms with her father. Mr. McSwiggen brought the ink from a bureau at Mr. McCabe's request and inkstand, pen and paper. The will with all its signatures was written by that ink and pen on this paper. (Will shown.) I did not append the date. I recollect the day the will was made. It was the 11th day of July on which Rev. Dr. Keogh was buried. St. Paul's Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum had brought suit against me in 1869. (Exception taken to all evidence hereafter published.) Under agreement of counsel I withdrew my affidavit, and confessed judgment, understanding that the claim was never to be collected. This was the same judgment referred to by paragraph five in the will. The counsel were Penney and Mellon on behalf of Orphan Asylum, and Marshall, McClurg and McGee on behalf of myself. Mr. McCabe, I think, was a director of that Asylum. Mr. McCabe was never urgent to have the claims collected against me—at least, not so personally. I had previous talk, and on the day I drew the will suggested the paragraph in the will exonerating me. The day my case was on trial was the day of Mr. McCabe's wife's funeral. I had intended going to the funeral instead of the Court. Shortly after that, a few days after, I went to Mr. McCabe's house and saw Mr. McCabe; told him the reason I did not go to Mr. McCabe's funeral. After I told him, he said "what after that yet are they? "I'll fix them." Had no opportunity to have conversation with him afterwards until the day I was sent for to write the will. When I met him to write the will I said "now is the time to get me out of that trouble; you helped to get me into it." He said "certainly sir, certainly, fix it there." I wrote the 5th section two or three times for him. He objected to them on account of the words "State Appropriation," "State Money etc." I again rewrote it, leaving the objectional words out, and he accepted the correction. Never had any conversation with Mr. McCabe from after his wife's funeral until the day I wrote his will. Am not related to Mr. McCabe except very distantly through my wife. I had no business relation with Mr. McCabe; was never in his employ. Mr. McCabe helped me into the difficulty by electing me secretary and giving me power of attorney from the Bishop to sign for the grant. Mr. McSwiggen received me at the door when I visited Mr. McCabe's house to write the will. Mr. McCabe suggested the 12th section touching residue of estate to be divided among the heirs, also the bequest to Mr. McSwiggen. Mr. McCabe was in bed when I went there, he got up, put his pants on and walked into the next room, lighted his pipe and smoked. Nobody but Mr. McSwiggen and I met together at McCabe's on the day after his wife's burial. I called myself, met McSwiggen who lived at the house. In writing the will I had a copy before me of what purported to have been a previous will. Mr. McCabe after this will was written said "destroy the other will" to McSwiggen. When I read him two or three sections out of the other will, Mr. McCabe exclaimed, "Good gracious is that there?" I asked him if he knew that was his will. He said, "No, I did not." His name was signed, and I think witnessed to in that will. Never before that day did I see any paper purporting to be his last will and testament. Before that time I understood Mr. Ihmsen had the will. McSwiggen told me, not long before the second will was made, that as soon as McCabe got well he would take him to Mr. Ihmsen and get his will. Subsequently McSwiggen told me he had the will. I expected that McCabe would make a new will. McSwiggen, I think, did object to some provisions in the old will. I did not know the contents of the first will. I learned through Mr. O'Brien, who was intimate with Mr. McSwiggen, of the possession of the first will by Mr. Ihmsen.

Re-direct—I had never seen McCabe. In writing the first will I did not know but Rose and Anna McCabe were natural daughters. Discovering the fact that Rose was not his real daughter, I used the adjective "adopted" towards Rose.

Here witness was dismissed and Mr. McSwiggen was called and sworn. The following is the testimony so far as taken:

Was subscribing witness to this contested will at Mr. McCabe's request. I went for Mr. Barr at Mr. McCabe's request, who said he wanted to settle up his accounts and make a will. I said I would go for Father Hickey to write the will. He said, "No, I want a lawyer to write it." He said, "Go for John C. Barr." I remarked that I did not think he was in town, and suggested that I should get lawyers Hawkins or McKenna. He said "no, I will await Barr's return." Met Barr on the street next day. Told him McCabe wanted him to make his will. That morning saw McCabe and told him that Barr was in town. He told me to go out and get him. Met Barr at Mellon's office, and went with him down to the house and the will was drawn. Mr. McCabe seemed on that day to know what he was about.

Here, by consent of counsel, the hearing was adjourned until Monday afternoon, June 26th, at two o'clock.

A. P. A.—R. W. G. L.

Third and Last Day—Stormy Session—R. W. G. L. Sustains its Dignity as the Head of the Order.

The R. W. G. Lodge of A. P. A. was called to order at nine o'clock yesterday morning by A. C. Smith, R. W. G. M., of Massachusetts. After prayer by Jas. T. McDowell, of Maryland, R. W. G. Chaplain, the Lodge was declared duly opened by R. W. V. G. Master R. R. Magee, of Rhode Island. After roll call the minutes of yesterday afternoon were read and approved.

N. B. Barker, of New York, asked permission to change his vote on the question acted on Tuesday afternoon, stating that he voted under a wrong impression and misunderstood the question. Granted. He voted yes. Others asked the same privilege, which was granted.

In answer to question, the chair decided that no Lodge had the right to exclude any member from another Lodge who was able to work himself in.

The decision appealed from, the chair sustained.

The correspondence in reference to Degree of Esther were read and referred to the proper Committee.

Resolutions on page 11, on minutes of R. W. G. Lodge 1870 were taken up and being amended were laid over under the rules.

The Lodge then went into a Committee of the Whole, with R. J. Black of Pennsylvania, in the chair.

The new initiation, introduced P. M., E. M. Spence, of Pa., was gone through with, John Morrow as the experimental candidate, and P. R. W. G. Master D. Steen of Pa., and R. R. Magee of R. I. officiating as conductors.

The unwrtten work of the order was not rehearsed and the committee rose and reported, recommending the form of Initiation to the Grand Lodge. The report was accepted, and the form of Initiation laid over under the rule.

Representative G. W. Armstrong of Ohio, asked permission to record his vote on the question of Tuesday afternoon. Refused.

T. D. Kimball of Missouri, offered the following resolution, which was adopted by 53 yeas to 16 nays.

Resolved, That colored Protestants be allowed to organize lodges of the A. P. A. in the several States under the supervision of D. D. G. Masters, appointed by the R. W. G. Master, such lodges to be numbered consecutively in the order of their organization; the said lodges to report to and be under the immediate jurisdiction of the R. W. G. Lodge of the United States.

A number of resolutions, amendments, &c., of no general importance were offered and acted upon.

A resolution was passed to recognise and encourage associations composed of Protestant ladies.

Bill of Bristol Lodge for $6 was read and referred to Committee on Finance.

Finance Committee reported recommending the payment of milage and sundry bills. Approved.

On motion, the R. W. G. Secretary was instructed to notify subordinate Lodges in the State of Pa., of the actions of this R. W. G. Lodge, relative to the recent actions of the Grand Lodge of that State, in refusing legally elected representatives admission and unlawfully authorizing the charters of No 25, 36, and 46, to be taken from them.

The following resolution was offered and adopted:

Resolved, That the representatives in this R. W. G. Lodge from States other than Pennsylvania be constituted a committee to consider what action should be taken by this R. W. G. L. in regard to Lodges Nos. 25, 36 and 46 of Pennsylvania, and report immediately at opening in the afternoon.

The Lodge took a recess.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Lodge reassembled at 2 o'clock.

After the calling of the roll, the proceedings of the forenoon session were read and approved.

T. D. Kimball, Mis., Chairman of Committee appointed previous to recess, reported, recommending the adoption of the following resolution as the unanimous conclusion of the committee.

Resolved, That in the opinion of this R. W. G. Lodge, Lodges 25, 36 and 46 of Pennsylvania, having violated no law of the W. G. Lodge of Pennsylvania, should be restored to good standing, and the R. W. G. Lodge hereby orders the W. G. Lodge of Pennsylvania to carry out this determination of the R. W. G. Lodge, and restore these Lodges to their full rights under the constitution of the W. G. Lodge of the State of Pennsylvania. Carried by 35 to 21.

The motion to receive and adopt the report caused a fierce and animated debate. Quite a number took part in the discussion, but a general desire to obey the laws of the order and defend and stand by the dignity of R. W. G. Lodge, was apparent, and the committee was sustained.

D. L. Smith, of Pennsylvania, offered the following as a substitute, which was ruled out of order by the chair:

Resolved, That the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania erred in refusing to receive the delegates elected to that body from Lodges 25, 36, and 46, and the action of the W. G. Lodge of Pennsylvania in refusing to receive these delegates is hereby reversed.

The action of the R. W. G. Lodge of yesterday in authorizing the R. W. G. Lodge to meet in Wheeling in 1872, contrary to the recommendation of the committee appointed on that matter was reconsidered and Buffalo, recommended in the report of the committee was adopted. So the R. W. G. Lodge will meet in Buffalo in 1872 by 35 yeas to 18 nays.

Twelve hundred copies of the minutes in the English and four hundred in the German language were ordered to be printed, and fifty per cent. be added to the actual cost to these authorized to be sold.

The committee on code of laws was directed to have at least one thousand printed.

All D. D. G. Masters appointed by the R. W. G. Master shall give security in at least $200, and in case this is neglected, the R. W. G. Master shall be held responsible.

In answer to a question, the chair decided that no member can be expelled without a charge being preferred, and also that no State Grand Lodge has the right to compel members to contribute and sustain benevolent co-operative societies, established for beneficial purposes.

A motion was made and carried, that the trunk and all documents and papers belonging to the R. W. S. Lodge, now in the hands of P. R. W. G., John Craig, Pa., be handed over to the R. W. S. Secretary.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the Pittsburgh GAZETTE, for so correctly publishing the proceedings of this R. W. G. Lodge.

The thanks of the R. W. G. Lodge were also voted to the officers of the Lodge.

After the minutes of the afternoon session were read and approved, the Lodge adjourned sine die.

SAD ACCIDENT.

Child Killed By Coal Cars—Holding Of An Inquest.

On Tuesday a sad accident occurred at Long & McKinney's coal works in Union township, resulting in the death of a little boy the son Isaac Prescott a coal miner employed at those works and formerly a member of the police force of this city. The little fellow had been playing about the track and at the time of the accident was shoveling coal between the siding and the main track. Empty cars were being pushed from the main track to the siding and the child being in the way was struck by the front car and knocked upon the track directly in front of the cars both of which run over him completely severing both legs and one arm from his body. Death ensued immediately.

Coroner West was summoned and yesterday morning he held an inquest on the remains. The mother stated that she saw the child and was in the act of going to it when the accident occurred. She said the brakeman was attending to his duty at the time, and that owing to the position in which he was standing it would have been impossible for him to have seen the child in time. Other witnesses were examined, after which the jury rendered a verdict of accidental death, and exhonerated the brakeman from any blame.

THE New Orleans,
Mobile and Texas
RAILROAD CO.

Are building a Trunk Line, connecting New Orleans with Mobile on the east, and giving the

Only Railroad Connection between the former city and the great and most productive State of Texas on the west, the total distance from Mobile to Houston being 475 miles. The Company is composed of strong Northern capitalists, who have already expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS of their own funds in the construction of the line. They have built about 225 miles from Mobile westward, and secured by purchase of securities and made provision for the thorough repair and equipment of the 108 miles constituting the Texas division leaving but 140 miles to be built

To Complete the Entire Road.

It is believed that no other railroad corporation in the country has ever made so large an expenditure from its own means before offering any of its securities to the public.

The Company now offer for sale the Eight per Cent. Mortgage Bonds

upon the Louisiana division of 226½ miles from New Orleans to the Sabine River. This will probably be the most valuable portion of the whole line, as it will be the only rail communication by which the enormous productions of Texas can reach the Southern metropolis.

So important is this road considered to Louisiana that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by endorsement of its bonds, and by subscriptions to the Stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million dollars.

The Bonds now offered are of two classes:

First Mortgage Bonds,

to the amount of $12,500 per mile, and

Second Mortgage Bonds,

to an equal amount, both principal and interest guaranteed by the State of Louisiana. The price of the two classes is the same, and subscriber can take their choice.

The Bonds are only in the denomination of $1,000, or $200 each, interest payable January and July, at the rate of eight per cent. currency in New York, or seven per cent. gold in London, at the option of the holder, at the time each coupon is due. Bonds can be registered, if desired.

NO BETTER SECURITY

Has Been Offered

to investors. The Bonds are largely profitable, as well as entirely safe. One thousand dollars invested in these eight per cent. bonds will give the purchaser greater annual interest than the same amount invested in the new Government Five Per Cents.

At the same price, an 8 per cent. currency long bond is far cheaper than a 7 per cent. gold one. Calculating a return to specie payment in three years, and taking the time that the bonds of the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Railroad have to run—45 years—we find that by compounding the interest of each, every six months, at 7 per cent. an 8 per cent. currency bond at 90 will give a return of $2,614 18 more than a 7 per cent. gold bond, at the same price, or nearly three times the amount of the original investment.

The bonds are dated May 1, 1871. The first coupon will, therefore, be a fractional one, running from May 1 to July 1. The price is 90, and accrued interest at 8 per cent. currency from May to date of remittance.

Subscriptions will be received in Pittsburgh by GENERAL MCCANDLESS! General McCook! Every other Democratic candidate seems to be a General. Who, then, said the war was a failure? Was it the Democrats, and did they mean it; or, are these Generals merely "accepted but not endorsed," like the amendments?

THE Philadelphia Age says: "The fruits of a Radical government can be seen in this city, where debt and taxation are on the increase, and no provision made to reduce either." This Radical government of Philadelphia is headed by the notorious Mayor Fox, an unscrupulous Copperhead of the worst sort. Surely the Age forgot.

IN REPLY to an anxious inquirer, we would say that Vallandigham calls his late change of base the "new departure" because it is the second one he has made. His first departure he took at the request of Mr. Lincoln's Government, when he went across the Canadian border and cried with Catiline, "What's banished but set free" from the danger of getting my deserts?

THE Cleveland Leader asserts that every evidence shows a gradual, but resistless, setting of public opinion in favor of General Edward F. Noyes for Republican candidate for Governor. The General is a young man of high social position, liberal education and prominence in the legal profession, with a perfectly untarnished reputation. The Leader predicts an old fashioned majority for him of twenty or thirty thousand votes.

IT MAY be of interest to the liquor men to know that the Democracy of Washington county have abandoned them. Licenses in that county are granted by the Court. The presiding Judge is opposed to granting any licenses, and has been sustained, hitherto, in so doing, by the two Associate Judges elected by the people. The election for Associate Judges takes place this fall, and the Democratic County Convention, held last Monday, nominated for that office Dr. T. W. Bradley, a Good Templar, and John Scott, who has but one specialty and that is temperance.

THE Post enquires, "What has so suddenly become of the Ku-Klux cylops and other monsters who about a month or so ago were said to infest every nook and corner of the South?" If our "billings gate" (!) will not grate too harshly on the classic ear of our erudite friend, we will inform him that our Ulysses, like his namesake of old, went after them with a "sharp stake," in the form of a proclamation threatening the application of a certain "bill," and sent them howling "to their dens." Their pedantic Polyphemus —Jeff Davis—stands at the entrance of the "cave" imploring the interposition of the Northern Democratic gods, but the great Jove is offended, not at his doctrines but his indiscreet promulgation of them, and Neptune, being deep down in a sea of troubles created by the "new departure," hears not his piteous cries. Ulysses with the "osier bands" of the Constitution and the laws seems to have strapped the Ku Klux for the present.

ALL GREAT MEN are merely originators and speedily find a host of imitators. Vallandigham's genius suggested that the Democracy should add to their other crimes by stealing the principles of the Republican party. This idea is scarce a month old, and yet the Democratic papers have become such adepts at the art appropriative that they have actually been tempted to steal some of their party deeds and slip them into the much derided carpet bags of Republicans. Thus a leading Democratic sheet in speaking of the Republicans of Missouri, says: "They recently tied a genial Democrat to a horse and shot his Democratic head full of bullets. Then they shot the horse to death. The Democratic majority is being materially reduced." It is scarcely necessary to observe that this is a bare-faced attempt to counteract the doings of their own partizan Ku Klux by blaming the Republican party for the lawless lynching of a good old Democratic murderer.

ON Tuesday we gave a brief history of the progress of magnetic telegraphy. We have since learned that the first message was sent over the line between Washington and Baltimore on the 25th of May, 1844. The question was sent from Baltimore, "What is the news in Washington?" And the following answer was returned, "Van Buren stock is rising." The first "press message" was received by the Baltimore Patriot on the afternoon of the same day. It was in the following words: "One o'clock—There has just been made a motion in the House to go into Committee of the Whole on the Oregon question. Rejected—ayes 79, nays 68." The line was opened for the regular transmission of messages on Monday, May 26, 1844. On Tuesday, June 2, 1846, the line was completed to Philadelphia and opened for business, and on the following morning reports by "magnetic telegraph" were published in the Philadelphia papers. It is said that there are now 150,843 miles of telegraph in the United States, and 5,914 offices, in which no less than 10,000 persons are employed; and that in Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia and America there are 650,000 miles of wires and 20,000 telegraphic stations. A large work to be accomplished in thirty-nine years, especially as some Congressmen placed Morse's invention in 1843 in the same category with "Mesmerism" and "Millerism."

THE Democrats of Washington county were represented in State Convention by Col. Wm. Hopkins and Dr. Adam Weaver. Hopkins voted against the ninth resolution, which endorsed the 14th and 15th Amendments, and Weaver was on the resolution committee and voted there, and in open convention for the ninth resolution.

Hopkins, for his opposition to the ninth resolution, was made President of the State Convention. It is the habit of that party to look one way and row another. In Ohio it endorsed the "new departure" but nominated Mr. McCook for Governor, who is opposed to that or any other "departure." So in Pennsylvania it adopted the ninth resolution, but at the same time put an opponent of it in the most prominent place.

Weaver, on the other hand, was a candidate for County Treasurer. The Democratic County Convention of that county met last Monday. Weaver was Chairman of the county committee, and a hard worker; but he had committed the unpardonable sin in voting to approve of the "new departure" and the Convention whistled him down the wind as if there had been no such man. And not only so; but everyone who sympathized with him was treated in the same way.

This Democratic County Convention also refused to pass any resolutions. It did not endorse either the State ticket or State platform, nor even the county ticket it had nominated. The party in the county was so utterly disgusted with the ninth resolution of the State platform that it refrained from passing any resolution whatever, lest it should thereby afford an opportunity to some one to vote in favor of that resolution. It is safely to say there will be no "departure" in Washington county. The politicians may pass as many resolutions as they please; but the rank and file will stand by the old heresies, fight the "nigger as violently as ever, and devote themselves to denouncing the 14th and 15th Amendments as void and of no effect.

MINISTERS' SALARIES.

We are indebted to the Chairman of the Committee on "Ministerial Sustenation" of the Re-United General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, for a copy of the report, with an appendix, made on the subject to the Assembly at Chicago last May. Both the report and the appendix have been prepared with great care, and must have cost a vast amount of labor. They reveal, however, a state of things in regard to Ministerial Sustentation in the great Presbyterian Church that we did not expect to find. The salaries paid to ministers, according to the tables published in the report, range from fifty dollars to ten thousand dollars per annum. Of course there are very few at either of these figures.

The Committee addressed 2,729 circulars to pastors and stated supplies, and received returns from 2,100. Of the whole number addressed, about 1,100 are receiving aid from the Board of Home Missions. Of the 2,100 who made reports, 1,248 are receiving a salary of less than $1,000 a year, including a parsonage. The number who receive a salary of $1,000 and over is 852. "There are 339 who receive less than $1,000, and at and over $800." Those who receive less than $800 number 909. The number of those who receive $600 and over is 287, whilst 622 receive less than $600.

The tables of the committee, it will be seen, reveal the fact that Presbyterian ministers receive "poor pay," and it would not astonish us if the congregations which dole out the miserable pittance, receive "poor preach." The minister of the gospel requires to be a man of culture. He must ever be learning. He must keep pace with the progress of literature and science. But how is he to do this on a salary of fifty dollars, even if he does receive aid from a mission board, amounting to two hundred and fifty, or three hundred dollars more? The whole amount would not be sufficient to purchase the necessary books during the first ten years of his ministry. No man, although he may be a minister of the gospel, can keep and educate a family in any country district in the land, on a salary of a thousand dollars, even if, as in Elijah's time, the ravens were to bring him bread and flesh in the morning, and bread and flesh in the evening. How can congregations expect their pastors to devote themselves to the work of feeding them with "convenient food" if they do not keep their minds free from all worldly cares? He is not well fitted to enter the sacred desk and discourse of divine things, who knows not how he is to procure the next week's food or the next season's clothing for himself and his family. It is all very well to talk of the "love of the gospel," and the "freeness of the gospel." Love for the gospel will not satisfy the preacher's indebtedness to the butcher and the tailor.

It is no wonder the Committee say. "These figures represent startling and saddening facts, calling loudly for action." But will the action be taken? In some places it will. In many more it will not. There is no case in which people—professing christian people—display a spirit of niggardliness more strongly than in the payment of the preacher. As a general thing they pay him poorly, and pay him reluctantly at that. It is a matter of wonder, under such circumstances, that there can be found men who will devote themselves to the sacred profession at all. It certainly cannot be for the love of lucre they give themselves to the sacred work, for there are few cases in which the ministry have grown rich on their salaries. We know many men, who, in a ministry extending over a period of twenty and thirty years, have not received in the aggregate during that time, more than thirty thousand dollars from their congregations. If they had saved every cent of the salary they have received they would not be considered wealthy. But if the same men had devoted themselves to almost any other calling, they would now be independently wealthy. The Committee cite cases in their report in which clergymen "have pursued their ministerial calling at a private cost of their own or their wife's patrimony, in from $20,000 to $30,000." One minister says: "I have paid in the last seven years, for bare support, $8,000 above my salary, preaching in cloth worth fifty cents (!) a yard." There are many other cases even worse than these, but we have not space to refer to them. Enough has been given to show that many ministers pay handsomely for the privilege of preaching the Gospel. But what shall be said of the wealthy church members, who lounge on plush and velvet, array themselves in purple and fine linen, and fare sumptuously every day, when the ministers who feed them with the bread of the Gospel are suffering from lack of the necessaries of life? They are not fulfilling the law of Christ in bearing one another's burdens.

The effects of the miserly support given to the ministry are seen upon the Church. Of the 4,238 ministers upon the roll of the Assembly, only 2,700 have any ministerial charge, and "only 1,625 of the whole number, at the utmost, are pastors, including those in congregational and foreign charges," whilst "out of the 4,526 churches reported, more than one-fifth of them are vacant;" and it is not likely that they will be supplied with preaching soon if no better inducements are held out than those given above. It is a crying shame upon the Christian people of the land, that the ministry of reconciliation are so poorly supported. Many of them aver that they must receive better salaries, "or resort to something else for a living." It is too bad that the ministry should be reduced to a state of destitution, be afflicted, and tormented by bloody persecutors, but it is a thousand fold worse that they should be starved to death by the devotees of Christ himself. The laymen of the church should take the matter in hand. Notwithstanding the scriptures lay down the principle very clearly, that they who minister at the altar, should live of the altar, clergymen feel a great delicacy in bringing the matter of their own support before their people. Here then is an ample field of benevolence for christian millionaires to work in, and we think that rather than have such reports as that which the committee, though its chairman, has sent to our table, spread often before the world, they will give the matter of ministerial sustentation, their immediate and most considerate attention.

GENERAL SHERIDAN AND THE GERMANS.

In reply to a letter from the editor of the New York Demokrat, Lieutenant General Sheridan has written the following:

"Your very friendly letter of the first of June has just reached me through the War Department.

"I beg leave to disavow the article published in German papers to which you refer, and which criticised and discussed the Franco-Prussian campaign.

"I have not said one word concerning the courage and conduct of the German army, the officers as well as the men, which, in my opinion, was not flattering.

"Inasmuch as the majority of such articles are, as you say, published for political effect, and as it would be a wearisome undertaking for me to correct them, I beg that our German friends, whose good opinion is all that I desire, will believe only such as bear my signature." etc., etc.

POLITICAL.

THE Columbus (Ohio) State Journal reminds Vallandigham that he forgot one thing in his new departure—that he should have completed the platform by resolving that the colored troops fought nobly.

IT IS well understood, says the State Journal, in political circles, that the Democratic leaders have no hope of electing McCandless and Cooper. The same paper thinks their real end is the control of the Legislature.

KENTUCKY has a colored population of 220,000, and denies them the benefits of the Common School Fund. Governor Leslie, the Democratic candidate, in his stump speeches dwells upon this shortsighted policy of his party as a matter of especial pride.

THE Bedford county Press asks: "Will the Democracy of Berks, York, and other counties in their control divide their local offices with the black man and soldiers? They never did it heretofore. It is to be seen whether they will do it, now that they want their votes."

THE Indiana Republicans have nominated Gen. Harry White for Senator. Dr. Thomas McMullin for Assembly. Wm. Allison, District Attorney, James M. Sutton, Treasurer; Hugh P. Lewis, Auditor; Wm. R. Black, Register and Recorder; Col. Edmund Page, County Surveyor and Peter Dils and James M. Nesbit, Associate judges.

MR. JOHN G. CARLISLE, the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky, is not in favor of the "new departure." He thinks that the principles of the amendments are the "real living issues," which must be discussed, and that the effort to resolve them out of the canvass only helps to keep up the discussion, as the Democrats will not quietly submit to them.

THE Erie Dispatch says that in Ohio the new wine of Vallandigham is likely to burst the old Democratic bottle. The Napoleon Northwest, Bucyrus Forum, Ashland States and Union, and Cincinnati Commoner, all Democratic journals, have declared they will not accept the platform. Two or three of them denounce McCook, the Democratic candidate for Governor, by name.

THE New Orleans Commercial Bulletin says: "Our people, after being robbed of everything that could be stolen, are now left, through the criminal negligence of the hordes of adventurers who rule them, to the mercy of the floods. There is nothing left for the Commune who control this city to do now but apply the torch and finish with the torch what their party began with the sword."

THE leading Democratic organ of the West, the Cincinnati Enquirer, has been engaged in close observation of the shadows of coming events, and puts its conclusions in the form of a brief parable which reads thus: "The Whig party in 1852 made their platform as near like the Democratic as possible. They died that year. That was their last appearance in politics." The Enquirer modestly omits the "moral."

THE New Orleans Times intimates that the Southern friends and supporters of Jefferson Davis are treasuring up all the hard things that are now being said of him by the Northern Democratic press, which has so suddenly changed its tone respecting him, and that they will be recalled to mind by and by when, in view of an urgent demand for all the Southern votes that can be scraped together, they will not be such pleasant Democratic reading as now.

AN address has been sent to the colored citizens of the States of Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Tennessee, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, South Carolina, Texas, Virginia, West Virginia, and the territory of Columbia, inviting them to send delegates—one from each Congressional district—to meet in convention at Columbus, South Carolina, on the 18th of next October.

EX-SENATOR WARNER, of Alabama, has formally declined the appointment of Governor of New Mexico. He prefers to remain in Alabama, where the politicians are indulging in a lively quarrel about the offices. Instead of trying to restore peace in the State, the two factions led by Ex-Senator Warner and Senator Spencer are violently disputing about the division of the federal patronage, and the result is likely to be that the Democrats will carry the State for several years to come.

JEFF DAVIS' speeches cannot be explained away by ridiculing their author, as the Democratic press is doing. As soliloquies they would be harmless; but the reception accorded to them by the Southern people gives them special significance. Mr. Horace Greeley, just from the South, says of those who struggled and fought for secession generally, that "Jefferson Davis' late speeches fairly express their average convictions and feelings." Mr. Greeley's report agrees entirely with the tone of many Southern journals—of all those which policy, open or concealed, does not muzzle.

THE free-trade Democracy tactics are thus exposed by the Reading Times: "The Democratic party has always been opposed to the policy of protection, as their votes fully attest. Of course there are a few Democrats (as in the case of the last session of Congress) who voted for a low tariff, but the bulk of their party are now, and have always been, committed to free trade, which, in other words, means the debasement of the labor system of this country, the contraction of wages, and the inevitable ruin and bankruptcy of every man who is compelled to toil with his hands for the maintainance of himself and family.

THE World has published what is called a "characteristic" article on Jeff. Davis. It abused him roundly, and went on to say: "In spite of a great deal of brilliant, skilful fighting, the memory of the Confederacy does not smell sweet and blossom in the dust." And why? Because the Confederacy originated in treachery of the worst kind? Because it was a shameful attempt to destroy a just Government, and led to the needless slaughter of thousands of men? No; that is not the World's reason for discontent. It condemns the Confederacy "because its whole political management was a stupendous blunder." The World is only sorry because it failed. Hence it howls at Jeff. Davis to-day.

A DISPATCH from Concord to the New York Tribune says the Democrats, by ignoring all rules and orders, have finally succeeded in organizing the House of Representatives in their own way. The proceedings here to-day have been conducted in true Tammany style. The right of the ballot has been denied, the Constitution ignored and every other means resorted to to accomplish a victory. The Speaker in his rulings was willfully in error, and appeals made from his decisions were treated with contempt and derision. This, however, is only the beginning of the political outrages which will disgrace New Hampshire between now and the next election. In the filling of the vacancies in the Senate and in the election of a Governor, the same humiliating disregard of all laws and rules will probably be observed in order to secure a victory.

THE Herald has received notice from Gen. Sherman to stop its offensive and ridiculous parade of his name as a candidate for the Presidency. He says with characteristic bluntness: "I think all my personal friends know my deep-seated antipathy to the subject (of politics) yet, as you seem not to understand me, I hereby state, and mean all that I say, that I never have been and never will be a candidate for President, and that if nominated by either party I should peremptorily decline, and even if unanimously elected I should decline to serve." Of course the Herald, having reached the end of one oscillation, begins to swing in the opposite direction, and warns the Democrats that the last hope of national ascendancy for them has disappeared. It would have been wise, had it not been impossible, for the Herald to have consistently clung to the first favorite for a second term.

THE Democrats bid fair to be stopped in the operation commenced by Vallandigham a good deal as the builders of Babel were by the confusion of tongues. The resolutions of Columbus were, according to the Cincinnati Farmer, opposed by a "large majority, and so hostile were many that they proposed calling another State Convention to denounce the 'surrender' as they called it, to the Republican party." Mr. Vallandigham recognized the same fact when, according to the Ohio Statesman (Democratic) he "administered the consolation usually given Democratic Conventions by some great men when they have narrowly escaped breaking up in a row," that when they quarrel most they fight best. Leslie, the Democratic candidate for Governor in Kentucky, declares "he don't care what Vallandigham or Hendricks say about the amendments;" he demands their repeal. Cartisle, running on the same ticket with Leslie, says the amendments are not dead issues, and politicians can't kill them with resolutions." We all know what Jeff Davis says, and a Southern correspondent to the Chattanooga Times (Democratic) declares that "Jefferson Davis still has the love and admiration as well as the confidence of every Southerner." And on repudiation in the Ohio platform, the Detroit Free Press (Democratic) says: "It has in true Ohio fashion, and for mere local effect, unnecessarily injected a greenback plank, which is about as dead an issue at this time as we can well conceive of. But with the greenback element within its borders, this little concession to its past mistakes will not seriously embarras the contest." The truth is that the Democratic party does not agree absolutely on any one point except its desire for success, and on that point it is not likely to carry the country.

THE NEW DEPARTURE.—We fear from the following that the Ohio State Journal is hopelessly irreverent. Here is General Comly's summary of the New Departure, with pen portraits of its author and its finisher: Vallandigham is a firm believer in the doctrine that the chief end of the Democratic party is to glorify Vallandigham, and enjoy him for ever. Now, there is nothing to be gainedby standing godfather to the Democratic candidate for Governor, and Val. knows it. The candidate of the Democratic party will be buried under a Republican majority of at least 20,000, unless there is the most stupid mismanagement. This possibility Val. shrewdly bestows upon the Pendleton candidate, with his blessing. No better implement for Vallandigham's revenge could have been selected than Geo. W. McCook. McCook is a mere handsome dummkopf. If his beautifully haircrowned head were filled with blanc mange he could not be more utterly helpless in the hands of Macchia-Vallandigham. The sardonic grin which spread over Val.'s countenance as McCook floundered on and on in his speech accepting the nomination, should have been a sufficient warning to McCook's friends. McCook wallowed in boggy, mushy feebleness about the amendments, jumping from one to another in distressing uncertainty, as if they were hummock's, and he did not know whether they would bear or not, until it would have been a God's providence to have pulled him out of the audience by the coat-tails. The truth is, George's intellect is not more than 15 years old.

THE STATE.

ON last Wednesday morning, the house of Charles Halder in Economy township, Beaver county, took fire, as is supposed, from a defective chimney, and burned down. The furniture was saved. An insurance of $1,000 was held on the building. The Phœnix of Hartford held the risk.

THE McKean Miner says: Twenty-three sheep belonging to Augustus Day, Esq., of Farmers' Valley, were killed by wolves on Sunday night last. Eighteen were found dead in the morning and five were missing. Such things must at least be provoking. Wolves seem to be very plenty around this section.

THE butchers of Beaver Falls, New Brighton and Fallston are to have a "Show Beef Procession," on Friday, June 30th, when they will march through the principal streets of those villages, preceded by a bovine weighing two thousand and six hundred pounds. The animal was raised in Butler county, Pa.

AN old man, George Null, residing near Hellen, Elk county, on Thursday last went out to watch a deer lick. He climbed a tree, and after remaining there a considerable length of time, started to climb down, but his limbs having become numb, he lost his hold and fell to the ground, sustaining injuries from which he died on Monday.

THE Armstrong Republican says: We regret to learn that on Wednesday last, as Mr. Isaac Warner, of Kiskiminitis township, this county, was riding on a neighbor's wagon, the horses ran off, and Mr. Warner, in jumping off, was so badly injured that he died in about two hours after the accident. Mr. Warner was one of the most respectable and highly esteemed men in the township, and his sudden death will be a sad blow to his family and friends.

ON last Thursday, about 11 o'clock, P. M., a frame house in Georgetown, Beaver county, owned by Benjamin Laughlin, was discovered to be on fire and before its progress could be arrested the house and its contents were destroyed. The building at the time of the fire was occupied by an old gentleman and his wife named Johnston, who are by this casuality rendered almost destitute. There was an insurance on the house for $3,000. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

THE Clarion Democrat says: On Thursday of last week, the house of Joseph McElhatten, residing near old Tippecanoe Furnace, Beaver township, took fire. The family raised the alarm, and Mr. Levi Black, father-in-law of Mr. McElhatten, living near, started to render assistance, and on the way fell dead. He was nearly seventy years of age, and subject to heart disease. The persons at the fire left to look after Mr. Black, and in the confusion and excitement, the house and nearly all its contents were burned.

THE Forest Republican says: The Messrs. Cobb have just finished a new steam mill about a mile and a half up Coon Creek, from their other mill, which was set running last week. They have also made arrangements to lease two mills on Hemlock Creek, above President. These mills, with the one on Tom's Run, Clarion county, make five large saw mills they are running. These will employ during the summer months about 175 men on an average, and in the winter an indefinite number. They are the most extensive lumbermen in this region.

THE Lewisburg Chronicle says:

It becomes our painful task to chronicle one of the most brutal and heinous crimes that ever disgraced the fair fame of Lewisburg. For the purpose of sparing the feelings of the friends interested as far as possible, (who are all respectable,) we forbear giving names. The crime consists of an aged man—head of a large family, and a grand father—violating the person of the daughter of a neighbor, the little girl not yet ten years old. Whether by force or persuasion the damnable deed was accomplished we do not know; but in either case, there is nothing that we know of to mitigate the crime. The poor girl was terribly abused, and her sufferings have been quite severe. The law will, of course, be enforced against the monster, but the little sufferer can find no relief from that quarter. The aged sinner, we learn, left clandestinely for parts unknown.

MR. JOHN D. FRIES, of South Coventry township, Chester county, is trying the experiment of raising an eagle, hatched by a dung hill hen. The Pottstown Ledger gives the following account. About a month ago, while out on Nyce's Hill, he saw a large bird flying up from a lonely place among the rocks. Proceeding to the spot he discovered two eggs, of nearly the size and appearance of turkey eggs, which he picked up, brought home and placed under a setting hen. About a week ago the eggs were hatched out and Mr. Fries was astonished to find that they were eagles. The old hen must have been considerably surprised, too, for she spluttered about and tramped upon one of her rare progeny, and killed it. The other one is doing well, and will probably grow up and do well. Eagles sometimes carry off chickens, and it would be rather a joke if this specimen would some day gather up the old hen that hatched it and fly away with her.

THE Beaver Argus says: A man named Geo. White of Greene township, who has been insane for a short time back, became alarming to his neighbors last week, and it was thought advisable to take him into custody, and await the action of the Court as to what disposition should be made of his case. Constable B. Swearingen, of that township, was ordered to arrest him, but as White was a person of considerable physical strength, he deemed it prudent to summon to his assistance Messrs. William Sterling and Henry Stewart. The three started off after White on horseback and on their approach he fled across a fence and into a thicket. They at once dismounted, hitched their horses, and in to the thicket after him they went. White it seems, understood a thing or two, and instead of penetrating the thicket to any considerable distance, he merely secreted himself in its edge, and when the officers rushed past, he turned back, mounted one of their horses, and started off at full speed toward the Washington county line. An exciting chase soon followed, resulting in White's capture, and incarceration in the county jail on last Thursday.

DEAFNESS.

There are many diseases of the ear which are now as remediable as of any other part of the body, and we cannot but be amazed that people would neglect so important an organ as that of hearing, especially when the means of cure are so readily obtainable. Apart from what passes as hard-hearing and total deafness, there are disagreeable sensations peculiar to the organ of hearing which are completely within the reach of chirurgical skill and can be entirely removed; among these may be classed purulent discharges, buzzing, singing like the sound of a teakettle, grasshoppers, spindles, &c. These sounds are frequently, if not always, the precursors of some unnatural state of the organ of hearing, or probably of some other physical ailment which, if removed, the other will pass off with the removal of the cause. Discharges of matter from the ear are usually the result of some ulcerations or abrasion of the surface of the internal ear, and it is frequently attended with deafness or at least impaired hearing, which, if neglected, will soon end in total loss of hearing.

Dr. Keyser, of this city, has an office in the rear of his great medicine store, 167 Liberty street, for the treatment of all such cases, as well as a large class of chronic maladies to which it were difficult to give a name. The Doctor has investigated chronic ailments with more than ordinary industry, and the cases of cures which he has published now and again, place his ability in the vantage grounds as regards chronic diseases of every sort.

LET COMMON SENSE DECIDE.

What is the rational mode of procedure in cases of general debility and nervous prostration? Does not reason tell us that judicious stimulation is required. To resort to violent purgation in such a case is as absurd as it would be to bleed a starving man. Yet it is done every day. Yes, this stupid and unphilosophical practice is continued in the teeth of the great fact that physical weakness, with all the nervous disturbances that accompany it, is more certainly and rapidly relieved by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters than by any other medicine at present known. It is true that general debility is often attended with torpidity or irregularity of the bowels, and that this symptom must not be overlooked. But while the discharge of the waste matter of the system is expedited or regulated, its vigor must be recruited. The Bitters do both. They combine aperient and antibilious properties, with extraordinary tonic power. Even while removing obstructions from the bowels they tone and invigorate those organs. Through the stomach, upon which the great vegetable specific acts directly, it gives a healthy and permanent impetus to every enfeebled function. Digestion is facilitated, the faltering circulation regulated, the blood reinforced with a new accession of the alimentary principle, the nerves braced, and all the dormant powers of the system roused into healthy action; not spasmodically, as would be the case if a mere stimulant were administered, but for a continuance. It is in this way that such extraordinary changes are wrought in the condition of the feeble, emaciated and nervous invalid by the use of this wonderful corrective, alterative and tonic. Let common sense decide between such a preparation and a prostrating cathartic supplemented by a poisonous astringent like strychnine or quinia.

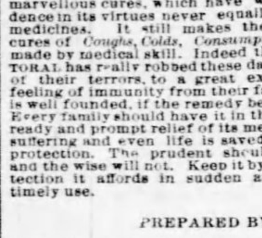
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,
FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT AND LUNGS, SUCH AS COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA AND CONSUMPTION.



The few composition which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

RENEWER.
Its Effect is MIRACULOUS.
It is a perfect and wonderful article. Cures baldness. Makes hair grow. A better dressing than any "oil" or "pomatum." Softens brash, dry and wiry hair into Beautiful Silken Tresses. It does not dye the hair, but strikes at the root and fills it with new life and coloring matter.
The first application will do good, you will see the NATURAL COLOR returning every day, and the old, gray, discolored appearance of the hair will be gone, giving place to lustrous, shining and beautiful locks.

MONEY AND COMMERCE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, June 14, 1871.

The money market remains steady with a air outside demand for loans, which keeps discount rates at 9 per cent upon first class paper. The banks complain some little of a scarcity of bankable funds, but not enough to interfere to any extent with the easy transaction of business.

There is but little doing in local stocks, owing largely, however, to high prices and the scarcity of of first class securities. Since Allegheny Valley Bonds advanced beyond 95, the demand for them has slackened off materially. The stock of this company is heard of now and then—small lots have changed hands within a few days—prices varying between $31 and $35 per share.

There is but little doing in Bank Shares. Sales are reported of Citizens National at $79. Third National at 144, Second National at 104-73. Bid for Exchange National, 69,50; for Bank of Pittsburgh, 72. We report orders for Allegheny Gas stock at 42—for Monongahela Water Co. (common stock) at 25,50, and South Side Gas Co. at $50.

The production at the Columbia Oil farm remains steady at 350 to 360 bbls daily. There is but little stock offering for sale. The only transactions this week that we can report, were at $16,50 and $16,75. The decline noted to-day in oil may possibly bring out some of the stock at about the above figures, but the near approach of dividend day checks the disposition to sell.

NEW YORK, June 14, 1871.

Gold quiet but steady, at 112⅛@112¼. It is said that a new clique has been formed to put the price up, and loan it out at a premium. Loans made from 1 to 2 for carrying, and in the afternoon from 2 to 1-64 of 1 per cent. for use. Clearances $63,000,000.

Government's dull and steady without decided change. Proposals for bids at Treasury amounted to $357,250 at from 111.12 to 111.86. Awards, one million at from 111.12 to 111.46.

The only feature of interest in the stock market to-day was the eccentric course of speculation in Rock Island. The clique in this stock are said to be largely short of Central and Hudson, and they dropped their stock, hoping to depress the Central, but did not succeed, as the Central stood up well against their sales. Ohios and Western Union did not yield to the depression, but have been very strong all day, and higher prices are predicted.

Money easy at 3@4 per cent; large loans have been made in the past few days at 7 per cent. until the 1st of May next. State bonds dull and steady except Missouri's which are strong and higher.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, June 13, 1871.

ASHES—Common Soda Ash, 4¼@4½; refined do, 4½@4¾; Pearls, 9@9½; Pots, 7¼@7¾.

BUTTER—There is a continued good demand for strictly prime and the offerings continue light; prices are firm and tending upward, no difficulty in realizing, 18 for choice. The lower grades, however, continued very dull.

BEANS—Prime Navy in fair demand—may be quoted at $2 per bushel.

BROOM CORN—Dull and unchanged.

BEESWAX—Is scarce and higher; quoted at 32@33.

COUNTRY BACON—Dull; small sales at 6@6½ for shoulders, 7@8 for sides, and 10@12 for hams. Country Lard 9@10.

CEMENT—Louisville, $2,50@2,75 per bbl. Rosendale, $4,00@4,50; Calcined Plaster, $4,25 @4,50.

CANNED GOODS—Tomatoes scarce and in demand with sales at $2,50@2,60. Peaches, unchanged, $2,25@2,50 for 2 lb cans, and $3,25@ 3,50 for 3 lb cans. Corn $2,50@2,62.

CHEESE—Continues to drop, but it is thought that the bottom has been touched; we now quote prime Goshen at 13; Factory at 12@12½; and Dairy at 10@11.

CARBON OIL—There is only a moderate demand but prices are well sustained; standard brands, 24—usual advance in a small way.

CORN MEAL—We can report small sales at 85@90 cts per bushel.

EGGS—Quiet and unchanged, at 15@16—sales reported at both figures. Dealers generally are holding fresh at 16.

FLOUR—Continues firm and somewhat excited, and prices are irregular and difficult to quote correctly; there is no question but what there should be an advance in western flours, but the low price of wheat here enables the mills to undersell dealers, and consequently it is no easy task to establish an advance under existing circumstances; wheat is fully as cheap here as it is in Cleveland—for some days past, 5@7 cts per bushel lower than in Cincinnati, yet at the same time it will not bear shipment east at any advance over what the mills are paying. We now quote good spring extras at $7@7,25; choice bakers flour $7,50; and good to choice red winter wheat at $7,25 @7,50. Rye Flour in a small way, from store, $6,00.

FEATHERS—Quiet and unchanged: No. 1 live geese feathers, 74@75.

FRUITS—Sales of green apples both new and old at $7@9 per bbl. Dried Fruit dull for inferior, and there is very little good stock in this market. Oranges $7,00@7,50; Lemons $6,50@7; Turkey Prunes 10; French 11@12; Currants 10; Layer Raisins, $2,75@3 per box; Valencias, 12½@13 cts per lb.

GRAIN—There is a steady demand and the mills are taking all that offers within the range of our quotations, $1,45@1,48 for red and $1,55@1,58 for white. All the western markets are a little offish, and the indications generally point to a lower scale of prices; in Chicago July delivery is being sold 2 cts per bushel below cash prices. Then, too, there is a wide spread suspicion that the recent upward movement has been engineered by a bull clique, and the probability is that just as soon as they succeed in unloading, there will be a sharp decline in prices in the west. Oats steady but unchanged, we can report 4 cars at 63; 1 do at 63½; small sales sales, in store, at 66@68. Dealers are paying 61@62 and furnishing sacks. There is no demand for Corn and and while the market continues dull there is no change to make in quotations, 65 for mixed and 70 for prime ear: 67@68 for mixed shelled and 70 for prime yellow shelled; as will be seen, Corn is much cheaper relatively than oats, notwithstanding the latter sell much more readily than the former. We can report an occasional small sale of Rye at $1, and a round lot would probably bring $1,03@1,05. The receipts continue very light.

GROCERIES—Sugars, in steady demand and firm but unchanged; it is generally expected that the sales will be large during the next three months. Coffee is still reported dull, and the same is true of Syrups and Molasses, though prices are unchanged. Rice is scarce and firm at quotations.

COFFEE—Fancy Rio, 18¾; Prime, 17¾; Good, 16¾; Fair, 16; Roasting, 15¼@16.

SYRUPS AND DRIPS—White Honey, 72; Havemeyer & Eiders, 72; Silver Drips, 60; other grades, 45@55.

SUGARS—Choice New Orleans, 11¾; prime, 11¼ good, 10¾; fully fair, 10¼; Porto Rico Sugars, 10½@11½; Cuba, 10@11; Demarara, 11¼ @12½.

REFINED SUGARS—Hard Sugars, 14; A Coffee, 13; "B," 12½; Extra C, 12¼; C. yellow, 12¼.

MOLASSES—New Orleans, choice, 70; prime, 68; good, 65.

TEAS—Fancy Young Hyson, $1 40; Good, $1 10; Fair $1. Lower grades down to 70cts. G. P. Fancy, $1 50; good, $1 25; fair, $1 10; Imperial Fancy, $1 40; good, $1 25; fair, $1; Oolong fancy, $1 25; good, 80cts; fair, 60@70c; Souchong fancy, $1 20; good, 90c; fair, 70@80c, Japan Fancy, $1; good, 90c; fair, 75c.

RICE—Choice Carolina, 10c; prime, 9¾c; good, 9c.

SPICES—Grain Pepper, 22c. Pimento, 17c. Cloves, 20c. Cassia, 56c.

HAY—Is in limited supply, and, in view of the fact that a very light crop is anticipated, prices are higher; sales from country wagons, in Allegheny, at $20@30 per ton, according to quality and condition.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, June 14, 1871.

The stagnation which has characterized the oil business for some days past still continues, and there is but little prospect at present of any immediate improvement. The general feeling here is still bearish, as operators generally are still impressed with the belief that the bottom yet not yet been reached, and, in consequence, there is but comparatively little doing. As compared with yesterday, crude has declined slightly both here and on the creek, and, as has been the case for some days past, there are more sellers, even at the reduction, than buyers; refiners generally are taking hold very sparingly, being impressed with the belief that there will be a still further decline, and besides they contend that they cannot afford to pay present prices, arguing, very properly, that crude is higher relatively than refined, and that as there is not much prospect of an advance in the former, there should be a decline in the latter. There are others who, however, are in the minority, who contend that the present reaction is only temporary, and there will probably be an improvement in demand as well as price before many days elapse; and while admitting that the production is on the increase, they allege that the supply is not in excess of the demand. Refined, while it is weak and lower, is not as much depressed as crude, nor is there as a strong a disposition to sell; this can be attributed mainly to the fact that at present prices there is little or no margin for the manufacturer, and so long as the offerings continue light, it is not probable that there will be any material decline.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

WEDNESDAY, June 14, 1871.

EAST LIBERTY.

CATTLE.

The receipts have been liberal thus far this week, but with an improved demand, under the influence of more favorable advices from New York, the market has been active and the sales unusually large, footing up 990 head in three days; furthermore, prices are higher, an advance of fully half a cent having been established, and even at the advanced price the supply seemed to be hardly equal to the demand—but very few reported in the pens to-day unsold. As will be seen by reference to the report of sales below annexed, prime shipping steers brought from $6,00 to $6,40 against $5.50@5,80 for the same grades last week, though it is but proper to remark, there was but a single sale at $6.40, and but few above $6,25. The attendance of buyers this week is larger than for some time past, mostly from Philadelphia and New York, and this accounts for the unusually large volume of business, as well as the advance in prices.

SHEEP.

The receipts for this week have been large, and to-day the market is rather weak, buyers being disposed to hold off, but there is no decline in prices, and, unless the arrivals should continue heavy, which is hardly probable, it is not likely that there will be much change in prices this week. Quotations may be given at 3½@4½ for common to good, and 5@5½ for prime to extra—very few sales above 5 cts. Lambs selling at 6¼@8¾.

RIVER NEWS.

The river was about stationary last evening with 32 inches in the channel. Weather cloudy and cool with every appearance of rain.

No arrivals or departures excepting the Monongahela river packets.

The Juniata, from Rochester, will probably arrive to-day.

The Mary Davage was to have left Ironton for this port last evening.

Although it is late, hopes are still entertained that we will have a June rise. While the resumption of navigation might be of advantage to some interests, generally it would not be of much importance at this particular time.

—We clip the following from the Memphis Avalanche of Saturday: The towboat Baltic, with 150,000 bushels of coal for the southern market, passed south last night, and is the rear guard of the heaviest shipment of black diamonds ever made out of the Ohio on one rise. The amount of coal now in the hands of dealers south of the Ohio now proximate 10,000,000 bushels, more than three-fourths of which has passed down since the first of last month, when the fleet began to move from Pittsburgh. The following boats, with the number of bushels in each fleet, arrived here since the first of May in the order named in the list: John A. Wood, first trip, 450,000 bushels; A. J. Baker, 250,000; J. H. Bigley, first trip, 475,000; Baltic, first trip, 200,000; Eagle, 270,000; Dick Fulton, first trip, 280,000; Ajax, 575,000; Boaz, 400,000; Grand Lake No. 2, first trip, 300,000; Baton R. Belle, 70,000; Hornet No. 2, 250,000; Lioness No. 2, 250,000; J. S. McDonald, first trip, 400,000; Simpson Horner, 350,000; W. Cowen, first trip, 300,000; Baltic, second trip, 225,000; Greyhound, 150,000; J. A. Wood, second trip, 400,000; Dick Fulton, second trip, 280,000; Baltic, third trip, 200,000; J.S. McDonald, 400,000; Grand Lake No. 2, second trip, 300,000; J. H. Bigley, second trip, 250,000; William Cowen second trip, 300,000; Baltic, fourth trip, 150,000. Total bushels, 7,475,000.

—A deck passenger on the steamer Glencoe killed himself on Friday, while on the boat just this side of Vicksburg, by cutting himself in the stomach and pulling his entrails out. The watchman of the boat tried to prevent the suicide, but could not reach him in time. The man was a German, bound for St. Louis, and had come up to Vicksburg on the steamer Oceanus, but while ashore at that city was left by the boat. He died shortly after he cut himself and was brought up to Napoleon, where an inquest was held on his remains. No money being found on his person he was buried at the expense of the county, at Napoleon, Ark.

—The St. Louis Republican says: The powerful towboat John Gilmore left last night with eight barges freighted with ore, in all amounting to 2,000 tons or 200 car loads. This would make ten trains of twenty cars each. The cost of running these trains through would probably be $500 each, or an aggregate of $6,000. Ore could not be shipped by railroads.

—The St. Louis Times, of Sunday, says: There were but four thousand four hundred tons of ore, and four hundred tons of pig iron shipped from the pile last week, and the prospects for this week are poor, as there is no tonnage offering or prospective. Everything is full, awaiting a rise in the Ohio.

—During the business season just closed, the Natchez carried 97,110 bales of cotton from Vicksburg and points below to New Orleans, a greater quantity than has been carried by any other steamer since the war in a single season. Her largest cargo was 5,117 bales, and the smallest 523 bales.

—The Storm, enroute from St. Louis to Pittsburgh, with a tow of iron ore, was to have left Cincinnati on Monday evening. She is drawing 3¾ feet.

—The Comet, with two barges iron ore, is laid up at Fulton.

—The Mary Davage and barges are aground at Brush creek.

—The Valid is on the Middleport ways.

STOVE AND GRATE.

Which Stand Without a Rival.

The WELLMAN STOVE is furnished with the "REFLECTOR GRATE," and possesses all the advantages of an open fire place; it is specially adapted to houses where the flues are too small to admit a grate, and affords all the comforts of a CHEERFUL OPEN FIRE.

1st. As a radiator of heat it has double the intensity of any other grate.

2d. It is unquestionably the most cleanly—no soot or ashes escaping into the room—which, in the ordinary Grate, proves so detrimental to carpets and furniture.

3d. The combustion is perfect. There is no waste in unburnt cinders—every ounce of the fuel is so completely consumed, that nothing remains but the finest ashes.

4th. As an economizer of fuel—there being an actual saving of at least 25 per cent.

5th. It is highly ornamental.

6th. It is set so deep in the chimney, that it is much safer, and also less liable to puff in windy weather.

7th. A slight motion of the shaker cleanses the entire fire, and causes it to burn with great brilliancy and intensity of heat.

Samples may be seen and references had at the store of W. BARNES, corner of 3d avenue and Market street, Pittsburgh; W. F. GOODWIN, 66 Federal street, Allegheny, or at the FOUNDRY, corner Duquesne Way and Water street, Pittsburgh.

Parties who are building, or who contemplate changing Grates, are respectfully requested to examine "The Wellman." Satisfaction guaranteed in all cases.

THE ANNUAL CONVENTION.

Review of the Year.

ADDRESS OF BISHOP KERFOOT.

FIRST DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

Yesterday morning the sixth annual Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Diocese of Pittsburgh convened in St. Andrew's Church, Ninth street, at ten o'clock.

There was a fine attendance of delegates and spectators at the opening hour, and the Convention was opened with religious exercises. The morning service was read by Mr. Scarborough, assisted by the Revs. C. Byllesly and J. F. Spaulding.

The anti-Communion service was then conducted by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Kerfoot, the epistle being read by the Rev. D. C. Page, D. D.

Rev. Henry Pardon then ascended the pulpit and delivered an able and instructive discourse appropriate to the occasion, which was followed by the Holy Communion, the Bishop officiating as celebrant, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Preston, Rector of the parish.

After the conclusion of Divine Service, the Bishop called the Convention to order.

Mr. Hay presented the report of the Finance Committee, which was received and filed.

Mr. Hay also reported a new canon, entitled "of Vacant Parishes," which was referred to the Committee on Canons.

The Rev. J. Scarborough presented the report of the Treasurer of the Board of Missions, showing that the Board was out of debt, had no liabilities, and was with an empty treasury. Received and filed.

AMENDMENT TO RULE NINE.

The Bishop (Rev. Mr. Scarborough in the chair) then offered the following amendment to Ninth rule of order, add "but the Supplemental Deputies to the General Convention shall not be nominated nor voted for till the election of the Deputies shall have been completed." Adopted.

Rev. Dr. White moved that "Clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church of this diocese not entitled to seats in the Convention, clergymen of other dioceses, clergymen of the Church of England or of her colonies, clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church of Ireland, and Students of Divinity of the Church now in this city, be admitted to the sittings of the Convention." Adopted.

The Convention then adjourned until 3 P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Convention was called to order at three o'clock by the Bishop.

Minutes read and approved.

Mr. Burgwin offered three amendments to former charters which were referred to Committee on Canons.

The Bishop called attention to the new table for finding Easter. Entered upon the minutes to be called up at the next general convention.

NOT PAID UP.

Mr. Bigham from the Committee on Claims of Lay Deputies to seats, reported several parishes in arrears.

Mr. Burgwin moved that they be placed upon the list of Lay Deputies, as soon as these arrearages were settled. Carried.

CHANGES IN CHARTERS.

Mr. T. M. Howe, Chairman of the Committee on New Parishes, reported amendments to charters of Calvary Church, East Liberty, and Trinity Memorial Church, Warren, increasing the number of the vestry of each from seven to nine.

Also, that the charter of Christ's Church, Tidioute, had been examined and found correct, and that the Committee recommended that the church be admitted into the diocese.

The report was accepted and the recommendations and changes approved.

The Convention then proceeded to make nominations for standing committees and officers of the Convention to be voted for this morning.

At the conclusion of this business, the Bishop, arrayed in Episcopal robes, ascended the pulpit and delivered his annual address as follows:

THE BISHOP'S ADDRESS TO THE SIXTH ANNUAL CONVENTION OF THE DIOCESE OF PITTSBURGH.

My Brethren of the Clergy and of the Laity.

We meet now again to consult for the progress of the gospel and Church of Christ, in the field intrusted to our joint care. We have asked for the gracious presence of the Holy Spirit; may every one of us keep that prayer fresh in our hearts and minds; then it will be answered: and we shall all be watchful to use the grace given.

We meet not merely for the details of business; necessary as those are; we come together to control and promote interests temporal and immortal. We seek to know more of the work which we are to fulfil; and to acquire a deeper insight and a more loving engagement in it. We come here not only to revise and arrange work, but to fit ourselves for it. Then too, we meet here to-day in quietness and hopefulness. We would be ungrateful to God and untrue to facts not to see this. There is much undone that we might and ought to have done; and doubtless the year may have known some things that ought not to have been among us. But—and for this all thanks to the Giver and Worker of all good—the diocese is moving forward very perceptibly and peacefully. There are, more, I think, than ever before, signs of preparation to enlarge our work somewhat into a due proportion to our need and duty. Your Bishop, probably, scans such signs more anxiously than any one else. The heartache that comes from the good things possible, but not accomplished, he often knows. The weary disappointment in hopes and plans, just, (as was thought) within the grasp, this year, too, has brought. But the survey of facts, as happy visitations bring them before the Bishop, makes him rejoice and anticipate our future as a diocese with a fulness of knowledge and of confidence which he would desire his brethren to share, as a great help in forward work.

During the year past I have visited every point in our work, excepting only one; many points twice or oftener. My promised visitation to one place was necessarily postponed. It shall soon be made.

The summary of my year's work, so far as statistics can represent it, is this: sermons, 153; addresses, 84; confirmed, 369 persons on 60 occasions; baptized, 5 adults and 57 children. I have administered the Holy Communion 52 times in public, and 7 times in private. I have read the service, in whole or in part, 121 times, and catechised Sunday Schools 16 times. I have met 15 Vestries for conferences; have laid 4 Corner Stones, (two of these by Presbyters commissioned by me). I have consecrated six (6) new churches, and had special services at the reopening of an old church, enlarged and improved, and provided with a new chancel. I have been at all the meetings of the Convocations, ten in number (several of these joint meetings) save one, from which sickness kept me. I have met with our Board of Diocesan Missions four times; once with the General Board of Missions and once with the Trustees of the General Seminary in New York. I have ordained one deacon and two priests and instituted one rector. I have sent out six circular letters to the diocese about various parts of our work. I have received five clergymen into the diocese and dismissed five from it by letters dismissory. I have united in the consecration of one Bishop and preached the sermon on that occasion. I have given my consent to the consecration of the Rev Wm. M. Niles D.D., as Bishop of New Hampshire; of the Rev. Wm. Pinkney, D.D. as Assistant Bishop of Maryland, and to the election of Bishop Clarkson as Diocesan Bishop of Nebraska.

Under our Diocesan Canon VIII. I appointed in August last a Commission of five Presbyters to make due inquiry into certain rumors touching the conduct of one of the Clergymen of the Diocese. On September 23d the Commission reported their inability to find evidence to justify further proceedings.

I have performed the marriage service three times, and the burial service twice.

The Church Guild, the Episcopal Classical Academy for boys, and the Bishop Bowman Institute for girls, in Pittsburgh, have had my heartiest interest and co-operation. The wiser Churchmen grow, the larger and more efficient will become their appreciation and support of these Church enterprises for education and beneficence. They are making now for themselves a well earned success.

Our one other most true and meritorious charity, the CHURCH HOME, in this city, must never be left out of Diocesan remembrance and regard. I visit it as often as I can. In the Rector of Saint John's Church it finds a faithful chaplain and pastor. The health of its sixty (60) children, the support of them, and of the aged and needy women in the Home, have been so mercifully maintained as to call for special thanks to God. Just now the Home is much perplexed by the large city assessments, (ten thousand dollars, $10,000,) which have come upon its property. Will not some new friends come forward to meet that debt? We may thus keep unimpaired the present land, whose fast growing value will in a few years endow the Home amply, when its location shall be changed to the new ground—the recent generous gift of a large-minded and far-seeing citizen. In the meantime offerings toward the current support ought to come from all our congregations, then the ability will exist, as the will now does, to comply with the requests in behalf of orphans from the various parts of the Diocese.

Some details of my official acts become necessary as parts of this public report. An appendix to the journal will contain other particulars.

The corner stones laid were—that of the Church of the Intercessor, Sugar Hill, Jefferson county, on July 11th, by the Rev. Robert C. Caswall; that of the Cross and Crown Church, in Erie, on July 14th, by the Bishop; that of St. John's Church, Rouseville, Venango county, on August 26th, by the Rector, the Rev. Mr. Byllesby; that of Ascension Chapel, Titusville, a mission of St. James's Memorial Church, in that growing city, on May 16th, by the Bishop. This Mission Chapel is to be the gift of one good layman. How wise and remunerative to any true Christian man, as well as how godly, is every such an investment of money! May the Lord continue to give us, as He is doing, such men in other like places!

The churches consecrated were: St. Michael's, Wayne township, Armstrong county, on the Festival of St. Michael and All Angels. It took the place of the old worn out church, that drew from me at my first visitation some plain words about the evident need of more parochial enterprise and liberality. The new church is proof of the energy of the Rector, and of the piety of many of his people. I trust that the growth of that peoples' mind to see and do their Parish work will be fulfilled.

Christ Church, Oil City, was consecrated on St. Paul's Day last; and St. John's Church, Rouseville, on April 21st; both of them are the fruits of efficient missionary labor, well begun by a former Rector, the Rev. Mr. Nevius, and most vigorously prosecuted by the Rev. Marison Byllesby. Both are beautiful and well arranged houses of God; and they secure our churche's place and influence in that wonderful oil region, now becoming the permanent home of men of enterprise and character, and of their families. Each of these churches has now its own Rector, whose work must be a radiating missionary one into the country and towns about each centre.

The Church of "the Cross and Crown," in Erie, I consecrated on February 14th, just seven months from the day on which I laid the corner-stone. It is not easy to tell all of one's appreciation of such church work as is going on in Erie. This new Mission Church is one of its signs and fruits. The land and house are worth fully five thousand dollars ($5,000), gathered from the love of the poor and rich. The good men and women who have been for some time past building up the real church, the congregation of men, women and children—all operatives—had a part of their well-won reward in that consecration scene. The spiritual work doing, more than equals the material things built up. The classes of men, of women and of children; the baptisms, confirmations and communions, the hearty Churchmanship, and the earnest, active devoutness of the flock; the two other like missions of St. Paul's Church now growing vigorously; the like great growth and activity of St. John's parish, (begotten only three years ago of the same parentage as these missions,) with its beautiful church, now free from debt and to be consecrated within the week to come, and with its own new missions—old St. Paul's in the centre—itself born anew—born when it is old—make an instance of church life a proof of her power to reach the masses of men and women, if we only will to do it, which a bishop and diocese may well praise God for, and ask grace to repeat in many places.

Grace Church, Ridgeway, Elk county, was consecrated on May 23d. It was built three years ago, but some debt continued till now. The generous aid of the Advancement Society here again helped one of our churches. But the parish and diocese owe special acknowledgment to the Godly layman who has been at once the chief giver and the loving pastor in that parish. May his example live on among us and find many followers.

Two days after, on May 25th, I consecrated the "Church of the Intercessor," Sugar Hill, Jefferson county. The five Presbyteris with me at Ridgeway shared in the services at Sugar Hill. That was a day of very rare joy to us all, and to the humble, happy flock, whose long desired home that new church is to be. After twenty-one years of pious services and lessons in cabin and little log school houses, the church could put her ark into that meet and beautiful little temple on its hill. That Hill of Sion is a fair place, too, in natural scenery as well as in Spiritual prospect. It has, besides, a history of family faith and integrity, of very humble toil, of genuine love of the church and her Lord, of perseverence and growth, into now the third generation, of God's fear and service. The church's religion and worship were, and even yet are, something strange in that lumber-region of little religion and many unbeliefs. Our work there, I see now, is to be made more than to minister to the sheep that we found in the wilderness. That Sugar Hill Church is to become a missionary centre in a region now rapidly developing itself as the home of large population and enterprise. How it was managed to make the Church free from debt, and so, ready for consecration, you will learn in other ways, which will also show you that the duty of some in this matter is not yet done. O! if I could tell this story, and half a dozen others, nearly, or quite, like it, in our own diocese, as they ought to be told; if the stories could "come as from a far country," "with their garments and shoes become old by reason of the very far journey," I am sure that they would make hearts thrill and open, and move nerves of sensation and of motion, to unclasp the bands and purses of not a few good people who cannot now quite realize what beautiful and glorious things wait for our doing in our own home-field, around its hills, in its woods, and along its streams. I have now pressing upon me the claims almost equally strong, of five or six little churches begun already, or sorely needed for little congregations, or for fresh mission points, full of promise. But I am confident that such needs and appeals will win, as they do yearly, more and more of the due response.

THE CONSECRATION OF CHURCHES.

This record of the consecration of six churches within the year (and that of a seventh is to come next week) makes this the proper place to recall to your mind what I said a year ago of this duty of the earliest possible consecration of your new churches. In two of these six cases the consecration service was the first service held in the House. It would be most wholesome could this always be so. But it is often right, because necessary, to use a church before consecration. Debt should not make such a necessity. Moderate debt, not beyond the means of a congregation to pay, may be honestly carried for a time. But all economy and energy ought to be used to pay off such a debt as soon as may be.

Then the house ought to be duly given to God, and consecrated to Him in the Church's solemn Rite. Till then the house, however becomingly arranged and used, is man's house, not God's house; man's property, carefully kept indeed for grave uses and interest's of his; but not yet God's House of Prayer. Natural and revealed religion both recognize the principle. The law, the prophets and the gospel expressly teach it. Our Blessed Lord Himself enforced it, by word and by act.

The Church's consecration office only expresses in distinct form the pious conviction that is avowed and acted on all around us. That pious conviction is, by the very make of man's nature, a necessary part of that reverence which begets true worship. The best legal opinion is that neither the consecration office, nor any of its accessories or parts, at all affect the civil rights of property, as given and defined by the law of the State. However this may be, the religious obligation and the law of the Church, as evidenced by her Prayer book, ought to overule all hesitation. And, it may be only prudent for those who inherit the trusts of Church property given formerly by others, or who now give their own money to erect Churches for the maintainance of the pure faith and worship of the God Triune, to take every precaution, that the men who may a few years hence enter upon these trusts, as chance may put them into their control, shall not be free to pervert property not of their giving to the furtherance of the unbelief or the superstition, which equally shock us all who cleave to the Savior and his Church with what we hold and prize as His true faith and His pure worship and ordinances. Real reverence, devout piety and far-seeing wisdom all concur in approving the Rite which gives the House to God, makes it holy now before our eyes, and leaves solemn warning to all who come after us, never to desecrate or pervert what God has accepted from our hands and made to be His own!

THE CONVOCATIONS.

The meetings of the Convocations—especially those held in the rural parishes, have been so useful, that I must repeat here again the wish and request that laymen would oftener come to them. Most, not all, of the clergy are very regular. The absentees are great losers; and they make a loss to the Bishop and their brethren of the sympathy, the local information and the counsel which we need in our various missionary efforts. I see how much the minister of the parish where we meet, prizes the full attendance of his brethren. It so much helps to quicken and encourage his own people. I have sometimes remembered this the more, because at the next Convocation that very brother is sometimes kept away by some not insuparable difficulty. The most efficient parish ministers, one cannot but see, are those who come most punctually to the Convocations, eager to tell and to hear of the good news, the needs and the best methods of work, and take a hand in some fresh task for Christ. The progress of our Diocesan Missions depends very largely on the Convocations. The Dean's office too, is becoming in many places, a great reality. Of course this is the real meaning of the thing; it means work not title.

ORDINATIONS.

The Ordinations have been:—One to the Diaconate, of Percival Beckett, in Christ's Church, Allegheny, on presentation by the Rector of that Church, the Rev. B. F. Brooke, on the second Sunday in Lent, March 5th; and two to the Priesthood;—the first, of the Rev. Oliver S. Taylor, Deacon, Rector elect of St. Paul's Church, Kittanning, in that Church, and on presentation of its retiring Rector, the Rev. Wm. Hilton. The day was St. Luke's Day, October 18th; and the Presbyters uniting in the imposition of hands were the presenter, and the Reverend Doctors Crumpton, Killikelly and White, and Messrs. Scarborough and Hartman.

The second—of the Rev. John H. McCandless, Deacon, Missionary in Armstrong and Indiana counties, on the third of March, in St. Peter's Church, Pittsburgh, on presentation by the Rector of that Church, the Rev. J. H. Egar, who with the Rev. Dr. Crumpton and Messrs. Scarborough and Roberts, united in the imposition of hands.

I expect to ordain three Deacons very soon, their work is already appointed.

INSTITUTION OFFICE.

On the day after the ordination of the Rev. Mr. Taylor to the priesthood, I instituted him as Rector of St. Paul's Church, Kittanning. This is the only occasion of the use of this office in this Diocese since its separate existence. I much desire and earnestly counsel you, my Brethren, both of the Clergy and Laity, to seek the use of the Institution office in the induction of a new minister into a parish. Its use would help to correct and elevate the views too common even among us, of the relation, of the mutual duties, of the sacredness and of the endurance of the tie between pastor and people. My own observation prompts just the words which other Bishops have to use about this whole matter. The tie of pastor and people is not as sacred in the eyes of either as it ought to be; it is not as enduring as it ought to be. Some ministers are restless, ever on the wing, ready to think that change will be relief or advance. Nine times in ten they are making great mistakes, as they discover when middle life comes. So also, some parishes, generally the ones weaker in resources and attractions; or some persons in any parish, those often who help the least, are prone to criticise and worry the minister. The support is meagre, uncertain and contingent on some fancy. Such parishes do get frequent changes, but rarely get or keep a choice rector. Let the pastoral tie be prudently made, and then affectionately, conscientiously kept; and let the mutual duties be honorably done, and parish and parson will both gain. I am sure that the use of the Institution office, making that tie more express, would greatly promote the comfort, the piety and the settledness of all concerned.

ADMISSION AND DISMISSION OF CLERGY.

The clergy received into the diocese have been—the Rev. Oliver S. Taylor, Deacon, from the diocese of Long Island, on October 1st; the Rev. Edmund Roberts, from the diocese of Pennsylvania, November 22d; the Rev. De Witt Clinton Byllesby, from the diocese of New Jersey, on March 31st; and the Rev. Wm. G. W. Lewis, from the diocese of New York, on April 22d.

The clergy dismissed to other dioceses have been—the Rev. Samuel Earp, to Michigan: the Rev. B. F. Brown, to Maryland; the Rev. J. K. Karcher and the Rev. H. J. W. Allen, to Pennsylvania; and the Rev. Theodore B. Lyman, D. D., to California.

One aged and venerable clergyman, the Rev. Richard Smith, has died at the age of four score years and three, the only one of our own number thus taken since we met last. After many years of an active and useful ministry, advanced age and its infirmities had for some time compelled Mr. Smith to give up almost wholly. But the record of former zeal and labor was not forgotten among us. I was able to be present and to officiate at his funeral in Meadville, on December 31. The due record of dates will appear in the Journal.

In the same month a venerable brother died among us whose name and record must have a place among our own, though he was not canonically one of us. The Reverend Henry Caswall, D.D., Rector of Figheldean, England, of English parentage and birth, but of our American orders, had been resident in Franklin for about three years. The ill health that disabled him from his own work made him seek rest and recruiting change here with his children. He came back to renew earlier acquaintances and to make fresh ones among the American brethren, whose fast friend he had ever been in his English home and circle. We welcomed him once here in our Convention, and again in one or more of our Convocations. It is very pleasant to think that each of these venerable clergymen leaves a son on our diocesan clergy roll.

CHANGES OF CURE.

The changes of cure have been as follows: The Rev. Marison Byllesby, retaining St. John's church, Rouseville, as needing all his time has resigned Christ Church, Oil City. This latter church has become the charge of the Rev. John T. Protheroe, who has resigned Emmanuel Church, Corry.

The Rev. Wm. Hilton has consummated his purpose, some time since made known to the Bishop and to the Vestry, to retire from the charge of St. Paul's Church, Kittanning, that a younger man might take it up. He is now its rector emeritus. His desert has been cordially recognized, as it ought to have been by the action of parish, annexing to the honorary title a life salary. The whole arrangement was highly creditable to all the parties concerned and to the diocese. I hope the example will be well remembered and copied in all like cases. Our venerable brother is doing occasional work efficiently and frequently in our vacant points. May his record of work yet long be kept open among us. The Rev. Oliver S. Taylor became the rector of St. Paul's, Kittanning.

The Rev. George Slattery has resigned St. James' Church, Pittsburgh, and taken charge of Christ Church, Greensburg. The Rev. Joseph P. Taylor, ceasing to be rector of Kenwood School, is temporarily absent from the diocese. The Rev. George C. Rafter, has, at my request, taken charge of the important new mission at Johnstown, resigning Christ Church, Meadville, in which he is succeeded by the Rev. Wm. G. W. Lewis. The Rev. J. H. McCandless has had Christ Church, Indiana, added to his previous missionary cures. The Rev. Mr. Bellam, ceasing to act as missionary at St. Luke's Mission, Pittsburgh, ministers under the rector of St. Peter's Church, at the Hazelwood Chapel, in this city. The Rev. B. S. Seymour, deacon, a year ago ministering in Trinity Church, Rochester, is now absent from the diocese. The Rev. Samuel B. Moore, leaving the Mission Church he had thoroughly revived at Conneautville, has become Rector of St. Stephen's Church, Sewickley. The Rev. J. A. Dooris, resigning his cure at Sharon, has had missionary charge of the churches in Waterford and Ridgeway. At the end of this month Mr. Dooris will take Ridgeway and Emporium, Waterford and Tidioute becoming the work of one of the Deacons soon to be ordained. The Rev. Robert C. Caswall has left Emporium, and become Rector of Emanuel Church, Allegheny, vacated by the removal of its former Rector from the Diocese. The Rev. Wm. Bollard, Deacon, is missionary in Conneautville and Girard, under Dean Spaulding's direction. The Rev. Edmund Roberts is Rector of Trinity Church, New Castle, and at my request, visits and ministers in St. John's Church, Sharon, during the vacancy of the latter. Rev. Perceval Beckett, Deacon, serves under the direction of the Rev. W. H. Roberts, at St. Luke's and St. Phillips' missions in this city.

The Rev. De W. C. Byllesby has resumed his former charge held years ago—the Retorship of St. James's Church in Pittsburgh.

This list of changes is long. Every change may have been necessary or wise. But it will be a token of good to us all when the changes of cure become fewer.

The candidates for orders are thirteen (13). James Lewis Parks, Boyd Vincent, Christopher W. Smith, Thomas A. Stevenson, Richard Wm. Mackey, Samuel D. McConnell, William James Miller, and Thomas White, for Priest's order—eight (8). Joseph Barber, Jno. P. Norman, M. D., Wesley Kearnes, Joel G. Clarke, Frank E. Bollard, for Deacon's orders—five (5).

Gideon Hughes, a candidate for Deacon's orders, has withdrawn his name.

The number of Communicants licensed by me as "Lay Readers" is fourteen (14).

Canonical notices have come to me of the deposition from the sacred ministry of eight (8) Presbyters, viz: William D. Harlow, Long Island; Rowland H. Bonne and John Cromlish, New York; Faber Byllesby, Pennsylvania; Wm. H. Cooper, Iowa; Oscar B. Thayer and Charles E. Cheney, Illinois; and of two (2) Deacons, viz: Frank R. Girard, of Wisconsin and Ilas F. Roberts in Oregon.

I have made several ineffectual efforts to organize the "Trustees for the Diocese." The decease of two of the Pittsburgh members, and the distant residences of several of the other Trustees, prevented the meeting of the necessary quorum. The Board will organize during this Convention. I recommend the election now of members resident, most of them in or near Pittsburgh. Important work waits for this Board's action.

The Female Prayer Book Society has been thoroughly re-organized recently. It has done very much good during the past, and enters now, I trust, into a more vigorous and better supported work than ever. The clergy will recollect that this Convention asks for this Society one collection each year. The journal will give the necessary information about its officers. The requests of Missionaries and Sunday schools for prayer books will be met to the full extent of the funds received. This is woman's work; and it makes easy my mention and strong commendation of other sorts of woman's work, as we see in (e.g.) Erie. There women having weekly classes of men in Biblical and other lessons; and meetings of women,—"Mother's meetings" as they are called,—are winning into the Church very large numbers of the operatives and their families. Any lady of zeal, love and common sense, can do this work. Two or three, or even one such working woman in each of our Pittsburg congregation would do a vast amount of good. No place in our land more strongly invites or would more richly repay such woman's work than this city. When is it to begin here?

CHURCH EDUCATION.

In the matter of church education for the young of both sexes, there is no progress to report. Nor do I see yet any strong signs of this great work advancing soon among us. There is much given and done; but not in this way. The delay in this thing is to me the chief, almost the only real, disappointment in my Episcopate. It was the one I least expected.

Plans and hopes existing before the new diocese, and adopted among its earliest schemes, were not found feasible. The resources of the diocese came to be, as they still are, greatly, wisely, and not illiberally, expended in church building and in missions. These demands will not long, so much as now, exhaust the means of men who love the church and who do give to her work. Her greatest need now, brethren, is such a church school, of high grade in every way, for her sons. During the year past, as many of you know, the realization of such hopes and plans seemed to come almost within grasp. I can even yet secure what is worth more than money,—harder to find yet not available which alone,—such men for this work as would at once put our Diocesan School among the few very best ones in our whole land. The chance must pass by if not seized. Nothing would more than such a School, bless your homes and families, and those of your clergy; would more, or so much, strengthen the Church in the Diocese, and give central life and vigor to our Church progress. I know not how to utter strongly enough my own convictions on this subject. It does not content me that I can free my own soul by the counsel and the effort. My Diocese, its homes, its sons, its Churches, need the success. May it please God to give us this soon!

THE COMMUNICANTS.

The Parochial Reports show that in all 450 or 500 Communicants have been "admitted or received" this year. Yet the total number of Communicants may not much, if at all, exceed the total of last year. The explanations will be that by the operation of our Diocesan canon 8, section 2, passed last year the lists have been more carefully pruned than before of names that ought not, for one reason or another, to continue on the parish list. Every parish priest, ought to strive to keep the roll of his communicants real and accurate; to make his pastoral vigilance keep every one of them in loving view; and to give them letters commendatory whenever any remove from his cure to some other.

CONFIRMATIONS.

The number of Confirmations this year is less than our annual average, by about one seventh. This need not indicate any decrease of spiritual life among us, but it ought to quicken vigilance, effort and prayer in parents and pastors. What I am much more anxious about than any mere fulness of numbers, is the thoroughness of preparation. Diligent intellectual teaching in the principles of the gospel and of the Church ought to precede confirmation, as the rule. The obvious, necessary exceptions ought to be few. Then there needs to be the distinct and hearty acceptance by the candidate of these truths as applied to his or her own separate needs and duties. Each one should know and recognize clearly the vow as one of entire, immediate, life-long confession and service of Christ. Every pastor ought to know distinctly from each one whom he presents, that the desire and resolve exist to come to the Holy Communion promptly and permanently. I learn here and there with great disappointment, that some whom have I confirmed have not become communicants. Sometimes the pastor takes the purpose for granted, when, in every case, he ought to inquire, and know the fact. I do not think that this deficiency is great or general among us; but I am anxious to have it measured, corrected and supplied with most serious diligence. The preventive ought to be found in accuracy of preparation. When you have done your best, my Brethren, you will meet need and failure enough afterwards to call for all the remedy your pastoral care can apply. This care, care of souls, must be an anxious care for them one by one, early and late; and even then "who is sufficient for these things?" Who keeps this responsibility ready for the great scrutiny?

In this report of my year's duties, I ought to include some mention of the answer I gave in January last, to the proposal sent to the American Bishops concerning the new version of the English Scriptures. My response was as follows:

BISHOP'S HOUSE, PITTSBURGH, PA., January 20, 1871.

To the Right Reverend, the Bishop of Winchester, Chairman of the Revision Committee:

RIGHT REVEREND AND DEAR BROTHER—Your letter (of Dec. 27th) touching the revision of the authorized version of the Holy Scriptures has reached me through the attention of the Bishop of New York; and I respond to your courteous inquiry, though I fear that my reply may not reach you in time for the use proposed.

It will give me pleasure to concur in any measure proposed for our common approval, by the Convocation of Canterbury, or by any other Synod of our communion, whenever I can do so rightly. I regret that I must decline thus concurring now.

The revision of that version of the Bible which we all read in private and in our families, and—what is more pertinent here—in the public services of the Church, and which furnishes our Scripture readings in our sacramental and other offices, is an enterprise, it seems to me, which rises above the due scope of any informal action of the bishops of our communion, or even of the Synodal action of any one province.

All the branches of our Church regard with much affection and reverence the Convocation of Canterbury, and its recommendations must always have great influence among us everywhere. But this proposal to revise the English version of our Bible has caused much concern among American churchmen of all orders. Many think that the Synodal suffrages and co-operation of all the organized parts of our communion ought first to have been sought. Very many might have desired that in making this new and more accurate provision for the spiritual needs of our own flocks, only members in the full communion of the Church should have been engaged. All of us would have asked that no one should in any event share in the work who did not heartily accept the Nicene creed. The rules on these points adopted by the Convocation, or by its committee, have largely increased the concern before mentioned among our American churchmen. But apart from any of these reasons, it seems to me that in so grave a matter it is the duty, probably the canonical obligation of an American bishop, to withhold his separate individual consent, and to await the regular action of the House of Bishops in conjunction with the other House (of clerical and lay deputies) in the General Convention. This body is to meet in October next; and then, doubtless, this whole matter will be duly considered, and the proper part and course of our Church in the United States decided by our united and canonical action.

With my thanks for your fraternal communication, and with most cordial assurance of personal regard, I am your lordship's faithful friend and brother,

J. B. KERFOOT,
Bishop of Pittsburgh.

I do not introduce this matter here with a view to elicit any action of this Diocesan Convention. My opinion has always been that the two Houses of the General Convention should have, so far as American churchmen are concerned, the exclusive responsibility in a matter of so grave and so general an interest. But my conviction has therefore become the more fixed that the Convocation of Canterbury made a great mistake in proceeding in such a work before and without ample conference with every branch of the church in communion with that Province. Probably the expediency of a revision of our English version may become the general opinion among us. The true position and duty of our whole communion would then be to take measure to secure for her own children the pure text and an accurate revised English version of God's Written Word, of which she is to us, as things now are, the only "Witness and Keeper" we can recognize. In any such work she ought to employ agents in every way duly responsible to her, and heartily loyal to her full faith. She would propose, as she would be obligated, to provide for the spiritual needs of only her own people. What might afterwards become the more extended use of such a version, or of any other, would be a question not within our Church's control or responsibility. Her office and right would be to provide for all who seek her guidance, and thus, and only thus, can she escape entanglements inconsistent with her duty to her Lord and to His people. No book of ancient, or even of modern foreign philosophy or poetry will yield up its true sense to a mind whose only qualification as an interpreter is scholarship in the special language used, without intellectual acquaintance or sympathy with the subject matter. The true sense of the Bible, the mind of the Holy Spirit, is a Theology, with its Philosophy and devotion, which only the mind that is full of the Faith and Piety of the Church can discern and put into truewords for our use. In this work the Church cannot vacate or transfer her office. The result of the effort, and its acceptance among men would be with God. But I have ground for saying that many able men without our body, would desire that the work should be thus done by the same Church which gave to our race the present English version. They see no other way of safely accomplishing the thing sought. They hope that the version so prepared for our own use in our private and in our Church services would be found on trial by themselves a satisfactory supply for their wants. But this matter may be wisely relegated to the discretion of our General Convention.

And here I may farther mention that I deemed it my duty, in December last, to withhold my official concurrence in another matter—the protest of the Synod of Canterbury against the mad, ungodly claim of Infallibility made at Rome, for her Bishop. In the terms of that protest, of course, we would all concur. But I think that in such matters the Bishops should confer and act as a House duly convened, and generally in their place, and joint legislation with the House of Deputies; and that the time has come to guard carefully against one branch (or any branch) of the Church drifting towards decisions or proceedings in the current set by any other one branch and its Synod, or in any other way. Our own synodical conference and consent ought to be an essential, precedent part in any action covering the interests or the responsibility of us all. The same principle must reach judicial matters. Questions of order and of doctrine must be decided in England in courts really civil, not ecclesiastical; whose duty it is—not to maintain the Church's doctrine and order, but to protect and enlarge, as far as can be done, the citizen's freedom from restraint in opinion and mode of action. Our freedom from State control involves the power and duty of our Church courts to decide Church questions on their own proper principles. It is to be hoped that at some early day, plans and laws may be devised for the due revision of the sentences of our present Church courts before ecclesiastical tribunals of higher and wider authority.

Our approaching General Convention will have some very serious matters to consider. We will not doubt that God will still guide its deliberations, as he has done heretofore so mercifully into peaceful and wise measures.

What I said a year ago in my charge about "Alterations in the Prayer Book," still seems to me to meet my duty as your counsellor, in the prospect of the coming meeting of our National Synod. I have nothing further to add now on that point.

But I must revert, and at some length, to a subject to which room was given in my address a year ago—that of MISSIONS.

Missions, within and beyond our own diocesan limits, must never sound as a topic too trite for these addresses. It was never fresher in interest to those of us who are brought into its full presence, than it now is. A few weeks ago I united with the clerical and lay-members representing this diocese in the Board of Missions of the General Convention, in a circular appeal to all of our congregations in behalf of the three departments of our general work. To the words of that appeal, drawn up at my request by Dean Spaulding, I can and need add nothing, except thus to remind my brethren of it, to add now my special sanction to it, and to admonish the forgetful, or the timid, or the short-sighted, (if we have any such among us,) on the points therein presented, that parish life and growth, and pastoral success and blessing, can never be attained in a congregation where such missions are eschewed or a forgotten thing.

Our own Diocesan Missions make one chief part of my work—and of yours. They are prospering very truthfully. They were never before more real than now, nor ever before so full of encouragement to me.

The large number of infant baptisms which the Bishop reports as among his own acts, means this; for in most cases those baptisms became his duty, (and one he loves to take) in places where there was no parochial or missionary ministry to receive these lambs into the Savior's Fold; while adults and children were needing and seeking for our ministries. These statements indicate a demand for such work beyond our present supply. That is a necessary sign of life in such things. But the work truly is fruitful. The demand is mostly for places where growth will be rapid and sure.

CITY MISSIONS.

Diocesan Missions including, of course, city missions; those which the Church, already strong in a city or town, plants near by at her own local cost. Our Diocesan Board gladly hears the reports of such missions, but does not assume their expenses, nor their direct control. City Missions, however concern this Convention much, strong centres will send out strong helps. Souls in cities are worth as much as others. Heathenism and religious destitution live near the doors of our city churches and of their wealthy members. This part of our work goes on; in Erie (as I have said) very well; in Pittsburgh well, much better than some time back, thanks to God's grace moving some earnest souls. In Titusville such a mission, much needed, is now assured of success. There is no stimulant for a dull parish, nor any sedative for a contentious one equal to a mission that provokes action and life, while it gives the restless some wholesome engagement for their tongues and hands.

DIOCESAN MISSIONS.

Just now there are fourteen, (14) missionaries, ministering at more than forty points; and the work is laid out for two or three missionaries more. Some places have this year became self-supporting. The rest, with at most two or three exceptions, are places where the local strength will before very long reach the same height. The points of church work in the Diocese have never been as many, or so well and so generally supplied before. But as I have lately been reading over very carefully, the convention addresses of the Bishops of Pennsylvania for the years preceding the erection of this Diocese, I see that then, as now, this topic presented its problems; anxious ones to those whose consciences made them try to solve them. How to revive an old parish, depleted by emigration; how to group missions into convenient classes how to provide, pay for, and distribute the missionary labors; how and where to find the discreet, efficient, patient, persevering men; how to get parish clergymen and laymen to enquire, learn facts, and co-operate; how to induce them to contribute systematically, giving up individual and changeful modes for any general rule, devised to secure regular, as well as large results; I ponder the same problems: but their practical solutions are becoming easier and more cheering every year. The whole aspect of our Diocesan Missionary work is brighter. There are more intelligence and interest on the subject. The effects of persevering work and supervision in some important points are appearing. There are some eight or ten of the parish clergy who respond at once and gladly to any request of their bishops to take a week's holiday of vigorous mission work. I guarantee them good pay, and they get it, and bring it home to their parishes—a heart full of the fresh joy and zeal which such work, and its needfulness and fruitfulness can give, as parish routine often does not. I had made out a list of such missionary parish priests that I might thank them here to-day; but perhaps they might not like it. And, next year, God helping us, the list will be longer. Such men earn a double portion of the Master's blessing!

The report of our Board of Missions will bring details and statistics before you. We owe nothing to-day; and we have no payments in advance of our credit. We need just one thousand dollars more next year than came in this one past. Attention and system would easily secure this. Facts, if they could be seen as I see them and handle them in my visitations, would move every one of you! I spoke of the Sugar Hill Mission. Let me tell of another. Stoneboro', Crawford county, is a little town of about five hundred people—coal miners and their families. Two months ago I went there for the second time with the same good helper who nearly two years before had spent a day and a half with me there, visiting almost every home. We did the same now. Two-thirds of the humble folk are ours, our old country church people. Every door was opened to us gladly. We found sorrow and sickness and ignorance and strange errors in the houses; of course we did. We ministered to them all. We held services and baptisms, public and in the house, as need and occasion came. Our congregation, at each visit, in the School House, was large, and little ones were baptized into "the old church," of whose existence in this land, till we told of the facts, not a few of the parents were wholly uninformed. When a few weeks ago we held that thronged service, and I baptized fifteen little ones into Christ's fold, and preached on the dozen or more topics about which the days round had shown the Bishop and his Chaplain that the poor people needed such lessons, for their defence against false teaching, as well as for their instruction in truth and duty, I felt that I had had the best day and the grandest service of my Episcopate. I want to get that flock a little chapel. There is no place of worship there. They must have a missionary. My good brother who was with me—who cares and works much for that point, (twenty miles from his own large parish,) cannot and ought not to have that mission left on his hands without help. What say you, my brethren? And what will you do?

A week ago I was at McKeesport. It is very near home; has nothing of the enchantment of distance, but it also has its little growing flock of our Mother Church's children, somewhat, not very much in advance of the Stoneboro people, in intelligence and means. But faithful, regular mission work there has told. The love of the church and of her Savior is very distinctly and impressively seen among that people. At my recent visitation I confirmed eight (8) persons, parents and their growing children. I found and used the opportunity for such inquiry and conversations with them as convinced me that these humble seekers of Christ in his Church, were truly and intelligently in earnest. I have nowhere seen in a flock more zeal or more self denial to establish their church. There are there twenty-two (22) communicants—not one person of wealth among them. They have made a prudent purchase of land, eligible in situation, and space for all wants, present and future, and have nearly secured there the one-third to be paid down now. They will have one thousand dollars, ($1,000) more to pay after a while for the land; and they wish then to build a thousand dollar chapel. From the Atlantic to the Pacific there will be no more promising, no better claim. Will it not be heard?

The 19th and 20th of May I spent in Smethport, McKean county. My one previous visit there was somewhat less than two years ago. Twice only in the interval had I been able to secure the visits of clergymen. I had done something by letters and by tracts sent to keep alive the work which was begun many years ago, and then kept up for only a brief time. Long abandoned as it was, the life begun would not die out. I found there some twelve or fifteen earnest communicants. There were baptisms, and confirmations, and glad communions at each of my visitations. From the clear-headed, zealous old churchman, now ninety years of age, confirmed sixty or seventy years ago, coming eagerly to our services and communion, down through every age, to the little ones brought to me for catechetical teaching, and for baptism, the flock there is very attentive and promising. The opportunity is great for the Church. The people's hearts turn to her little as she has ministered to them. Efficient "women's help" awaits her call. I had thought till this second visit that I had done all I could for them. But a few hours among the eager, devout church folk and others there, only waiting for our regular services, made me feel literally guilty as I walked about that town. There was fault and sin somewhere in some measure. The diocese ought to have sent help. Its sin, if it had any such sin, is somehow, in some measure the Bishop's sin. How much his personal sin is a fearful question for him. Anyhow let us all now meet such duty. That county town is a centre of influence. Its sure growth is now foreseen. If we had a little church, and the half of a minister's time given there regularly, the point would cease to be missionary in three or four years. They promptly meet all the expenses of any clergyman's visit there. I have pledged them six such visits this year, and I have put down the names of some of the parish clergy who will not say no to my request, and whose congregations will take cheerfully a lay reader's services, if need be, one day in a year (or oftener) for the sake of this and other missions. Then there is Townville—no mission indeed of your Board, though it needs and merits such ministry—where now one church family, one daughter of that family chiefly, is building a very becoming church and working up its flock of young and old by regular Sunday services and school, though only now and then can the busy parish priests, the least distant from the place, give them a week-day service. That ought to be one of our missions; and there ought to go now, ought to have gone long since, the three or four hundred dollars which would now complete the Church, and relieve the daily toil of head and hands whose earnings are consecrated to pay for that House of God. So, Brethren, sketch after sketch might be given. Would to God that I had some men's skill in making them; and yet you must remember that most good working is prosaic and common place! But perhaps the due time and dignity of an Episcopal address have been already sufficiently taxed by such details. And yet, what are we met here for, but for this—to rehearse all that God has done with us. (Acts 14' 27.) and how He has opened the door of faith to many in our own proper field. I will only point out one such new opening made. The new line of the Connellsville and Baltimore Railroad takes us into a part of the Diocese where the church is not known, except by the few services which the Bishop and Dean Smith have held there. But new towns spring up, old ones grow anew. Population pours in and in the stream come some church people; and many besides are living or coming there who know no Saviour. In one of these towns valuable church lots have been purchased, where they could not be had otherwise, and must be secured now in some way. The risk is the Bishop's; but he has no doubt that his laymen will justify such prudent risks by any needed help. In some other towns, lots have been or will be given. We must soon build these two or three little churches. Dean Smith has done valuable service to the church in that region by missionary work and visits. His personal care will continue to be given. I have arranged for the work of a special Missionary there this summer in the hope of such developements as will make that service permanent. This field is now to be one of your regular Mission grounds. May the great Husbandman give us the hearts and hands needed for the work, and His gracious blessing on all its parts!

In concluding this address to the Sixth Annual Convention of the Diocese, a comparison of results since and before our separate diocesan organization, may, for various reasons, not be inexpedient. The diocese of Pittsburgh became an assured fact just six years ago. Its separate canonical life began November 1st, 1865. Its first bishop was consecrated January 25th, 1866. The fairest and simplest comparison will be made between the six years preceding the Pennsylvania Convention of 1865, and the six years following, up to this present Convention in 1871.

The statistics of our Church in all these twenty-four (24) counties, now making this diocese of Pittsburgh, gathered carefully from the published records of bishops, Conventions and parishes give for the Former six years, 1860-65.	Latter six years, 1866-71.

Confirmed (total)	1,018	2,493
Communicants (1865)	2,155	3,500 or 3,600
Offerings of diocesan missions (total)	$3,864 61	$22,165 19

Thus in these three test points, Confirmations, Communicants, and Offerings for intra-diocesan missions, the six years succeeding June, 1865, give, in comparison with the six years preceding, of confirmations, 5 to 2; communicants, 5 to 3; offerings to diocesan missions, 6 to 1. Within the last six years, (taking in the present church building in this city as completed) fully five hundred thousand dollars must be set down as the expenditure in church building. The like period preceding had not been a fruitful one in this respect. Within the second period, twenty-one new churches have been built. Of these, five took the place of churches before existing; sixteen are additions to our churches.

In November, 1865, as in May, 1866, there were at most, thirty clergymen besides the Bishop, actually resident and at work in the Diocese; taking in the ordinations to occur at once, there will be now forty-eight (48), besides the Bishop, at work. There are openings and moderate support for two or three more, when the right men can be found. There have been fair growth and success. There was great need of separate Diocesan provisions. How far any growth has been promoted by such measures, different minds will decide and measure in differing ways. But two things we all will unite in saying heartily. We owe to God all the success. It is our fault that it has not been far greater.

May our duties be much better done in the future! May God's grace abound in us and in His Church, more and more, for His Son's sake! Amen!

THE MISSIONARY WORK.

At the close of his address, the Bishop (Rev. Dr. Preston in the chair), suggested that the report of Board of Missions be called up and read, that the members of the Convention might have time to consider it be and be prepared to take action on Thursday morning.

The Rev. John Scarborough moved that that portion of the Bishop's address which referred to the Diocesan Missions, be referred, together with the report of the Board of Missions, to a special committee of three—one clergyman and two laymen—to consider and prepare resolutions on the subject, their report to be made the special order of the day for Thursday morning at eleven o'clock.

The Reverend gentleman then by request, read the report of the Board, a very carefully prepared and interesting paper, which we regret the length of the Bishop's address, prevents us from re-producing here.

His motion was then carried and the chair appointed Rev. Mr. Spaulding and Messrs. Pearson, Church and Hill Burgwin as the committee.

WOMAN'S WORK.

Mr. Vincent moved that so much of the Bishop's address as referred to the work of women in the church be referred to a special committee of three clergymen and three laymen. Carried.

The chair appointed Revs. Messrs. Egar, Taylor and Getz, and Messrs. Vincent, Shoenberger and Paul.

Rev. R. S. Smith moved that one hundred copies of the GAZETTE containing the Bishop's address be ordered for the use of the Convention. Carried.

Mr. Bergwin moved that the Convention express its concurrence in the views expressed by the Bishop in his letter to the Bishop of Winchester, in relation to the revision of the Scriptures. Carried.

Mr. Shoenberger moved the appointment of a committee to ascertain how many trustees the diocese was entitled to of the General Seminary.

The Chair appointed Messrs. Shoenberger, King and Wilson.

Adjourned until this morning, at nine o'clock.

THE BALTIMORE COUNCILMEN.

Their Prospective Visit to Pittsburgh—Arrangements for Tendering Them the Hospitalities of our City.

The congratulatory and fraternal resolutions which passed between the Councils of our city and the municipal body at Baltimore, in relation to the completion of the Connellsville Railroad, are to result in a visit from the Baltimoreans. Our readers will remember that the resolution passed by our Councils, tendered the hospitalities of the town to the "City Fathers" of the Monumental City, and appointed a committee to take charge of their reception, should they desire to come. The invitation thus given was accepted and the 25th inst. fixed upon as the time for the visit.

The matter having been thus definitely settled the committee appointed by Pittsburgh Councils, held a preliminary meeting yesterday afternoon in the Mayor's private parlor to arrange for the reception of the prospective visitors.

The members present were, Henry Lloyd, R. M. Snodgrass, B. W. Morgan, Josiah Cohen, John Fleming, John R. McCune, General T. A. Rowley, H. Lageman, S. J. Wainwright, C. W. Batchelor, J. Froelich.

The committee was organized by the election of Mr. Lloyd chairman, and Mr. Snodgrass secretary, when the following sub-committees were appointed.

Reception—Jared M. Brush, Mayor, A. H. Gross, President Select Council, H. W. Oliver, President Common Council, Josiah Cohen, Henry Lloyd and Col. Wm. Phillips.

Banquet Music.—Gen'l Rowley, Capt. Batchelor, S. J. Wainwright, R. M. Snodgrass, D. C. Carroll, and Chas. Kehew.

Toasts—Messrs. Lampman, Cohen, Fleming and Barguin.

Inviations.—Messrs. B. W. Morgan, Jno. R. McCune, and John Froelich.

The committee then made arrangements for the meeting of these sub-committees, in the Mayor's private parlor, Monday June 19, at 2 P. M., to consummate the business, after which they adjourned.

Dooley's Yeast Powder Reigns.

And well does it deserve the success attained, as it is the best and cheapest in the market. No baking powder has ever been manufactured so free from deleterious substances, and so exactly proportioned that good light rolls, biscuits or pastry could be made each time with success. It is always ready for use, reliable, and requires but about half the quantity of any other in use. POLICE NOTES.

Brief Mention of Criminalities.

'Squire Ammon had yesterday before him Wm. Graham, charged with drunkeness and disorderly conduct. It seems that William had been making a great deal of disturbance on the streets of Birmingham. He was fined $10 which he promptly paid and was then released.

Sarah Johnston made an information before Alderman Bowden, charging Joseph Gamble with disorderly conduct. Warrant issued.

Jno. Oxenhart yesterday morning preferred a charge before the Mayor, against his brother George, of assault and battery. They had a quarrel in which George drew a knife and stabbed his brother in the arm, inflicting an ugly wound. The accused was arrested and in default of bail, $1000, was held for a hearing.

Daffeny Douglass made information before Alderman Butler against Hannah Gallagher for surety of the peace. A warrant was issued for the Hannah, who is now serving a term in the county jail. The parties are both colored.

Mary Holland alleged before Alderman Butler that Ambrose Whalen had given her a whalin'. He was arrested and held to bail to a charge of assault and battery.

Thomas H. Leonard, for being drunk and entering a house on Third avenue, where he made use of language which does not accord with the code of Chesterfield, was fined $10 and costs.

A. J. Miller charged Thomas Ligget, before Alderman Bowden, with defrauding him of $20, due for boarding. A warrant was issued.

Mrs. Mary J. Johnson appeared before Mayor Callow this morning, and lodged an information charging Barbara, Louisa and Emma Grow, Mary, Adah, Martha and Margaret Bevin, and Julia Gordon, with disorderly conduct. The prosecutrix resides in Pine alley, in the Fourth ward. She alleges that the parties came to her house, broke open the door, and acted otherwise in a disorderly manner. Warrants for the arrest of the parties were issued.

A young girl of sixteen, who has been on the wayward path for some time past, was arrested this morning by the Mayor's police, at the instigation of her father. She will likely be sent to the house of refuge.

John Herman who keeps a saloon in Lawrenceville sells liquor on Sunday. On a charge preferred by Frank Freyvogle, a warrant was issued for his arrest.

Officer Tully conveyed eight disorderly boys to the lock-up, having found them behaving suspiciously about a board yard. They have been sent to the house of refuge.

James Kelly is wanted at Alderman McMaster's office. He thrashed Dennis Daly beautifully recently, and a charge of assault and battery and breach of the peace was made.

A bird was caught by a boy and taken home when his father bought a cage for it; but two different women claimed the bird, and the man who had the bird in his possession, finding that he could not keep it, told his son to let the bird go again, which was done. One of the women claiming the bird brought suit against the man for letting the bird go. The case, however, was decided against her and she was put into the costs.

Some boys who stole some tickets from the store of John W. Pittock about a month since were apprehended and taken to the lock-up last night.

George and John Hetzel appeared before Alderman McMasters yesterday, and requested that officer to issue a warrant for the arrest of a young woman, widow of Joseph Hetzel, brother of the complainants. They allege that their brother at his death left three notes, one for $200, one for $100, and one for $25; also some $500 in cash, which Mrs. Christian Hetzel got possession of and declined to account for. They claim that as the legally appointed administrators this money should be turned over to to them. A hearing will be had.

Four cases of drunkenness, and one of disorderly conduct were before Deputy Mayor Nichols to-day. The chap who was disorderly increased the city funds twenty-five dollars.

Mary Moffett preferred a charge of disorderly conduct against Mrs. Fay. Mrs. Fay then entered a cross suit against Mary on a similar charge. A hearing will be had.

The man Luzelle whose case we mentioned in yesterday's GAZETTE, had a hearing on four different charges for disorderly conduct. In each case he was fined $25 and costs, in the aggregate $100 and costs. As he couldn't raise the "stuff" he was consigned to be for the coming five months a fellow-sufferer with Neely and McGee. His father was present at the hearing, which availed the offender nothing, as the old gent remarked that a little experience at brick-making might be of material benefit to his wayward son.

Henry Godfrey was before Alderman Strain yesterday on a charge of disorderly conduct preferred by Daniel McCreery, who runs a ten-pin alley near the American House. The accused, it is alleged, went into the bowling alley and commenced throwing the balls around promiscuously. The case will be determined this morning.

Mollie alias "Pug" Oliver, of Tin-pot alley, is charged before Alderman McMasters with assaulting and battering Sarah Duninger. Bail for a hearing was entered.

The case of William Carter, alias, George Williams, indicted for attempting to commit rape on Ella Drew, a little girl five years of age, was next called up. The allegation is that he enticed the child into an alley off Diamond street, and attempted the offense. This is the case, which attracted attention at the time the defendent was arrested, and taken before the Mayor. It will be remembered that the prisoner at the hearing was hit with a spittoon by the father of the child and knocked senseless.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty. Sentence deferred.

Edward and Mary Scott, indicted for larceny on oath of Mrs. Oliver, were put on trial. Verdict of guilty with recommendation to mercy. Motion for new trial.
